DAWES INVADES ENEMY GROUND

Strikes Hard at Independent in His Iowa Stronghold

Says Radicals Would Undo American Progress

Large Audience Cheers His Flings at Demagogues

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) MASON CITY (IOWA), Oct. 7.—Charles G. Dawes, Republican nominee for Vice-President, began a drive through what leaders of his party describe as "the La Follette belt of Iowa" with addresses today in Keosauqua and tonight at a mass meeting in the Mason City assembly.

The Republican nominee speaks tomorrow at Fort Dodge, Sioux Falls, Lemars and Sioux City, all in territory which La Follette leaders inform him is "Dawes country." He arrived here last night, and tonight at a mass meeting in the Mason City assembly.

Mr. Dawes, on being advised as to conditions struck at the La Follette movement, with a view to "water" the election, he was shown in his previous campaign, reiterating his declaration that election of the Wisconsin Senator meant chaos, he described Mr. La Follette as a "real reactionary," and then proceeded to state that he considered a "reactionary."

CHAS. THE RESULT

"A reactionary," he contended, "is the man who would turn back all that we have established in this great country of ours; throw the compass overboard from the ship of State and let her sail by the wind; have our action determined by a passing phase of popular opinion and plunge us into confusion with the La Follette identity—into chaos; undermining the confidence of our people in the existing order with all the disastrous results that will follow." Campaign promises being made by Senator La Follette, Mr. Dawes asserted contained a "real absence of reference to the machinery and methods by which all these results would be accomplished." "Just the constant intimation is given to 'put us into office and it will come,' he continued. 'They don't come that way. They come by work. They come by meeting the facts and the truth fairly and squarely in the face of the people.' 'We don't solve questions that are great questions by oratory. We solve them by the common sense judgment of the people.' The audience jammed the assembly to capacity.

RALLY AT BROOKHART

Mr. Dawes, in the course of his attack on the La Follette candidacy, made one statement which drew the audience by its applause indicated it interested him, and he aimed at Senator Brookhart.

Citing instances of the methods used by demagogues, Mr. Dawes pointed to Senator La Follette's Labor Day speech, and said he did not need to speak of other things with whom you are familiar in this State.

The audience broke into prolonged applause and repeated the chorus later when the speaker had once been called a radical and that he also had fought for lower railroad rates in the West, "but upon an economic basis and without demagoguery."

The Vice-Presidential nominee found new fuel for his attack on La Follette campaign, characterizing it as "a mobilization directed against the La Follette campaign, and the La Follette campaign is a mobilization directed against the La Follette campaign."

—MENACE TO PROPERTY

"It is a menace not only to our existing institutions, but to the La Follette campaign, the price of rain products and the peace of the people," he added.

The method in which the La Follette campaign is being conducted has drawn the fire of the Republican nominee who told his audience that the La Follette campaign was a "mobilization directed against the La Follette campaign."

—HOLDS MOB RULE ADM OF LA FOLLETTE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) ST. PAUL, Oct. 7.—Speaking at a noon meeting in the St. Paul Auditorium, Mr. Dawes was making an appeal designed to establish in the United States the rule of mob rather than the rule of the people.

"We have an instance of the rule of the mob today in Russia," he added. "Do we want to transfer that rule to America?"

DEMOCRATS OF ARIZONA WORRY

Party Support to La Follette Feared by Many

Hunt Declared Lukewarm in Pledge to Davis

Union Element Is Known to Favor Senator

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) PHOENIX, Oct. 7.—There can be no doubt that Democrats who support their national ticket are worried over the situation in Arizona, for it is appreciated that La Follette more nearly represents the views of the radical majority within the party than does Davis. The Democratic laborites are for him almost unanimously and it is this element that has heretofore dominated the Hunt section of the party, which in turn has controlled Arizona Democracy. All this element this year voted in the primary for Hunt, and the result showed him leader of a surprising majority above both other candidates. This same element since is said to have been giving out service whenever it mentioned Davis at all.

For a long time in the early part of the campaign, doubts were expressed concerning the stand taken by the party. The Independent expressed favor for the ticket only in the latter days. Meeting of the party was held at the residence to Davis and Bryan. In this connection, interest attaches to Hunt's attitude a year ago when La Follette was getting together a nucleus of his present organization. Though talked to personally by La Follette, over long distance, Hunt did not accept the bait. He stated: "I feel confident that I cannot get away from my own ideas that the place to make this fight."

However, there is no denial on the part of conservative Democrats that for a while Hunt was expected to formally join the insurgent. Just within the past few days have reports to the effect that Sidney P. Osborn was put forward in the primary with the intention of smoking out Hunt and making him declare for one side or the other. Osborn hammered on this subject at many meetings, and finally may have accomplished the desired result, for Hunt, Nogales, announced himself as supporting the national Democratic ticket.

This same fight went into the Democratic State Committee meeting, which, under Arizona law, is a sort of State convention. The conservative element started the session with a declaration of intention to throw La Follette out of the party. Delegates from various counties reported that on the La Follette election's petitions had been found the names of a number of so-called Democratic county and State precinct committeemen. Several were declared very close to the State administration. But the movement stopped very soon after it started.

"In the first place," Mr. Work said, "I am not talking about transactions which occurred in the Interior Department before I entered the office. Secondly, you can be sure that I never told any letter asking that anything be kept secret."

Secretary said he was conducting an investigation to determine if there was any such contract. He said that if it had existed, a copy would have been given to Senator La Follette. He said he had asked some months ago for Interior Department files relating to Alaskan contracts.

NORTHERN TEXAS GROWING COTTON BORDER COUNTY RAISES CROP OF 1900 BALES IN FIRST YEAR

HEREFORD (Tex.) Oct. 7.—As an illustration of the advance that the cotton growing industry has made to the north and west in Texas, it is stated that Deaf Smith county, of which Hereford is the county seat, will this season produce more than 1900 bales. The county produced its first bale last year. Before then it was generally thought that cotton could not be successfully grown here. Two farmers tried the experiment of planting a few acres of cottonseed last year. One of the farmers made one and one-fourth bales to the acre, and the other got a return of one-half bale to the acre from his crop. The remarkable success of these two men caused many farmers to plant cotton this year, and in nearly every instance prospects are favorable for a large yield. Deaf Smith county borders New Mexico and is situated within the boundaries of the northern boundary of the Panhandle of Texas.

Chamber Protests Efforts to Abolish Ship Reports

(BY A. P. WIGGINS WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—An announcement today by the Radio Corporation of America that it stands ready immediately to begin construction within a few miles of New York City of the first of its proposed system of superhigh power broadcasting stations developed opposition to superpower plans at the third national radio conference. The announcement on behalf of the radio corporation was made by its general manager, David Barnard, shortly after the opening of the first of the conference's technical sessions. The conference was called by Secretary Hoover to bring about a meeting of representatives of all branches of the radio industry for the discussion of radio problems arising since the conference of a year ago. More than 250 delegates from all sections of the country are in attendance.

Walter A. Renss, representing the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, declared opposition to the plan on the ground that there is no proof that present power cannot be utilized to reach the distances desired by the higher-powered stations.

It is mostly upon the contention that the high-power stations would cut out the lesser ones that opposition to their construction is being advanced. The objection also was made that such operation would make it impossible to receive their signals on the present ordinary receiving set.

The committee will consider the power limitation problem further before voting on a recommendation to the conference.

MOVE TO ABOLISH SHIP REPORT PROTESTED

The Marine Exchange of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, representing shipping interests of this district, today joined with shipping interests of the Pacific Coast in protesting before the Hoover radio conference at Washington a proposal to abolish the practice of requiring ship masters to file their positions at sea daily with the nearest land radio station.

The marine branch of the local chamber cites that the international rule requiring the filing of ship positions with radio land stations has proven of great value in rendering assistance to marine disasters. The burning of the Los Angeles Honolulu liner City of Honolulu at sea in 1913 with hundreds of passengers aboard is cited as an instance wherein radio communication proved invaluable. It was the known position of the steamer West Farallon, filed with land radio stations, that effected the rescue of hundreds of lives.

According to Maj. C. A. James, manager of the local marine exchange, the present move to discontinue this practice is said to originate with radio companies operating on the Atlantic Coast, where the volume of paid commercial and ship business has attained such proportions that one or two of the larger radio operating companies have placed the proposal before the Washington conference for doing away with the handling of ship positions on a gratis basis.

The matter has been referred to a special subcommittee on marine radio that will report its findings back to the general conference.

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PORTLAND (Ore.) Oct. 7.—Foot- prospects are improving at Agricultural College, which in its first conference game with Oregon State on October 18. There hasn't been much change around the O.A.C. for several years, this being a little relieved last season when the Aggies won from the University of Oregon, their ancient rival. But this year there is a new coach, Paul John Schissler. It is only half as long as he seems to be right now, but do wonders for O.A.C. The school always has a great deal of football material—big, strong fellows who know some things about the game, but usually with less experience than at the universities. Coach after another at Corvallis has failed to take that material and weld it into a great football team. Usually it seems to be the Aggies' lack of ability to land victories. But some coach will appear who will not only win from the fine material available that will make the team a real threat throughout the conference. Perhaps Schissler will.

IS A DRIVER
The coach is a driver. He is on the order of Gillette in that he is in command of the team and keeps his men on their toes. Schissler tells what to do. He tells them in simple terms and in tones that make them like him. He makes them like him by a man on the team that he has been spending time for the three and a half years that Schissler has been at the gridiron.

A TOUGH DOSE
The boys are taking a tough dose of instruction from Schissler. They are convinced of his business. He is out in the field of it all the time, taking hard knocks than any of them. From the day he went on campus he was in supreme command and, win or lose, it is to be a Schissler team. He is the kind of a coach that the school has been praying for some reason or another.

OBSERVATIONS

INNOCENT DEFENDER, BILL HENRY

They're off again at Culver City. Having tried the bang-bang with a painful lack of success, and dirt-track racing, with considerably better success, the half-way City has finally awarded to A. M. Young & Co., a franchise to erect a board speedway on the site of the present track. It is understood that Brother Young, who managed the Beverly Bowl from its inception to its final, expects to build a similar track around the present mile dirt oval so that racing on either board or terra-firma is to be had and seen from the same seats. Incidentally, the infield will permit of rood and other forms of excitement.

Speedway racing in the last few weeks has had a real wallop in the eye because of the unfortunate accidents which resulted fatally to several of the best-known and most popular drivers. Interest in racing, however, has not fallen off, and enormous crowds will probably flock to see the speed kings battling for gold and glory when the new basin is erected, a couple from recent races indicate that capacity crowds have attended and great enthusiasm has been shown.

The recent Fresno race was one of the most spectacular and exciting in the history of speedway racing and the victory of Earl Cooper, speed king of a decade ago, was very popular in his own home town. The opening race on the new oval will probably witness the re-entry into board racing of Ralph de Palma, who left the fold to race for George Bentel and then returned to knock over a lot of records and prizes on the dirt tracks. It will be interesting to see how the local public turns out for the opening of the new oval.

Al Waddell's surprise that Stanford is a couple of touchdowns better than the Trojans has brought a roar from those who stand with him and an even louder yell from those who don't. On the other hand, there are very few well informed citizens who have seen both teams in action this year and therefore Waddell's opinion should carry considerable weight. He saw the Trojans play Caltech and the Cardinals play Occidental, and he has a reputation for knowing his stuff.

Waddell doesn't say that Stanford will beat U.S.C. by a pair of touchdowns. He says that Stanford against Occidental looked two touchdowns better to him than U.S.C. did against Caltech. He bases his belief on the terrific offense of Stanford, which, he says, is much better than that of U.S.C. He says that Stanford makes yards right now like a top-notch Eastern team in midweek and thinks that unless the Trojans co-ordinate their efforts on offense, the Cardinals will beat them.

Phil Salvatore, veteran of many a thrilling ring battle, never put up a more courageous and stout-hearted fight than he did at the Vernon arena last night, and the result was a decision over him in rare form, having one of his good evenings. He started out poorly in the first round, being content to let Mandell lead, and hurt his chances of victory by hanging on a lot. Phil's seconds gave him instructions to go after Sammy in the second session and then the fight started.

SCENES FROM THE BATTLE FRONT

Below are views of the first game in the big series. Frankie Frisch, captain and infielder of the New York Giants, is shown being caught napping at second in the first game by Buck Harris, who received the throw from Walter Johnson. In the center Harris is being put out in no uncertain manner by First Baseman Terry of the Giants, the latter effectively blocking the avenue to the first cushion. Below are shown part of the hundreds who waited all night at the bleacher entrance to Griffith Stadium to watch the first game. The photos were rushed to The Times via airplane by Pacific and Atlantic Photos, Inc.

SENATORS FAVORITES OF NEW YORK ROOTERS

Giant Rally in Ninth Checked by Marberry, Who Takes Place of Mogridge on Mound

"Goose" brought Harris across in the fifth after a wild pitch had let in McNeely and started another two-run rally in the eighth with his fourth hit, scoring ahead of Joe Judge on Oscar Bluege's third safe blow of the game.

"Goose's" spectacular slugging made him not only the hero of the day, but also the idol of the crowd which, after his circuit clout, gave him an ovation scarcely less vociferous than that of his own followers after his first homer, a potent factor in Washington's triumph on Sunday.

The crowd, as yesterday, was "with" the fighting Senators and their youthful pilot, Stanley Harris, who also was a scintillating figure at bat and at field today. The Giant's came in for their share of cheering, particularly when, in a fashion, which has become typical to the series, they rallied in the closing innings, but the crowd's noisier applause was with Washington and Goslin.

There was another direction of cheering for the "Goose" when he came out to the field after his home run and displayed his versatility by making a circus catch of a long drive off Wilson's bat.

Meanwhile the Giants were baffled by the southpaw shots of Mogridge, former New York Yankee moundman, who silenced the heaviest New York artillery with a puzzling change of pace and a tantalizing slow ball. For seven innings the McGraw men gathered but three hits off Mogridge and two runs, one of which was due to an error and the other to a two-base blow by George Kelly, but in the eighth the southpaw developed a sudden streak of wildness and despite a five-run lead, was hastily withdrawn by Harris after the first two men to face him had walked.

Into this critical situation strode "Topsy" Marberry, hero in a relief role, in the second game, but a "bust" yesterday, when he started for the Senators and was hammered from the ball by Marberry, who apparently is only at his best when performing a rescue act, met and turned back a determined Giant attack in both the eighth and ninth innings.

"Hack" Wilson, the first to face Marberry in the eighth, clouted a two-bagger, scored, Young, while in the ninth, Gowdy's single, a freak wild throw by Rice, which came off first base for a two-base error, and Lindstrom's third hit, produced another run. Lindstrom, advancing on a pass to Frisch, got to third when Young forced the Giant captain, but Marberry tightened and struck out George Kelly on three pitched balls.

This finish was dramatically similar to that of the second game when Marberry, relieving Zachary, came to the mound in the ninth with a man on base, two out, the score tied and struck out Travis Jackson on three pitched balls. The big twirler now has saved the Senators in two crucial moments, but he gets no credit in the official reckoning for either. The credit he was first given for winning the second game, was taken away from him yesterday by the official scoring board and given to Zachary, while today Mogridge departed with a lead which the Senators held intact to the finish.

The number of automobiles that were damaged in the recent fire at the home of the late Mrs. J. W. Smith, who died last week, is a matter of regret to all who knew her. The fire, which broke out at about 10 o'clock last night, destroyed the home and the contents of the garage, including a number of automobiles. The fire was caused by a gas leak in the kitchen. The fire department arrived at about 11 o'clock and fought the fire for about an hour. The fire was completely extinguished. The fire was a great loss to the family. When the Senators beat out the so-called world's champions for the pennant, Manager Huggins had cause to ponder on certain business transactions which sent three former Yankees—Ruel, Moiridge and Peckinpough—to Washington. "Washington, D. C." means Miller, the midge manager, and then realizes his actions in letting the aforementioned Tanks don the Senatorial Toga. Ruel, Moiridge and Peckinpough—three discarded Yankees—are now three potent cogs in the machine called the "Washingtonian wallop."

Ruel was traded by Huggins in 1920 to the Red Sox. Now he personally supervises every pitch the Washington hurlers shoot at the plate. "Muddy" was brought up to be a ball player by his dad.

Roger Peckinpough, captain of the Senators, had a taste of world-series glory in 1917 with the Yanks, and didn't mind getting into the 1924 series at the expense of the Yanks. He started "way back" in 1910 with Cleveland, and worked for Huggins from 1914 to 1921.

George Moiridge, Yankee pitcher from 1915 to 1920, used to be with the White Sox twelve years ago. Being a left-hander, he has naturally had a good year, and was charged to pitch against the Giants in a world-series game. George pitched a no-hit game against Boston in 1917, the Red Sox scoring a run on an error.

COMMISSION IS MATCHMAKER

New York Boxing Body Goes Systematically About Bringing Best Boxers in Division Together

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—The New York State Boxing Commission is going into the rather precarious business of match making, judging from the action taken by the board at its regular weekly meeting today. George E. Brower, chairman of the commission, announced tonight that managers of all fighters will be requested to file lists of the boxers their men are ready to meet and with this list the managers must state the price demanded for each individual bout.

hand both Santa Clara and St. Mary's are strong and the Bears are very well with a comparatively inexperienced team to pull out a victory over the two teams, which both had a long running start ahead of them in the matter of training and preparation.

The Bears have the latest power of force and are gradually finding themselves, according to good information from the North Young and Brown are both terrific line plungers and this kid, Imlay, is said to be every bit as good as Don Nichols at running with the ball, although his all-around game, of course, is not to be compared with that of Nichols. Andy Smith usually has a smart quarterback and Carlson this year is no exception. Dixon is excitable but is a very shifty runner, a good kicker and a fine forward passer. of Mexico hinted at a new war in his country in a recent speech to the American industrial mission
at the government factories in Mexico City were denied today in a statement by the executive committee of the mission. With the statement, the first it has made since its return to the United States, the executive committee made public the full text of President Obregon's speech.

The statement, which bears the signature of W. W. Nichols, chairman of the committee, and of the mission, Edward Prizer, F. D. Waterman and Mason Britton, reads in part:

"In the name of the American industrial mission, just returned from Mexico, we protest against the imputation ascribed to President Obregon in reports of the address made to the mission in Mexico, September 18. In these reports President Obregon was made to hint at a new war. No such an interpretation may honestly be put upon anything that he ever said to the members of the mission. The President's speech, which we now make public for the first time, was the most significant of many significant utterances.

REALIZES NEEDS
"The leaders in Mexico realize that one of the great needs of the country is universal education, and they are prepared to make great sacrifices in order to bring this about.

"The mission was deeply impressed by the wise attitude and purpose of the government as expressed by President Obregon, and it is certain that any idea of war
is far from his calculations."

In making President Obregon's
speech public, the committee called particular attention to passages in which he bespeaks the need of his country for foreign capital "guided by modern morality," and his unwillingness to have Mexico's wealth fall into the hands of "trusts that exploit their own countrymen." President
Obregon likened the United States and Mexico to two passengers on a great ship, sailing for the same destination.

President Obregon is quoted in
part as follows:

"We are greatly in need of capital; we need capital that comes from foreigners with hearts and conscience. We do not desire the capital of great trusts and big enterprises whose representatives are not in touch with their workmen, men who do not know their wants and never learn to love them. We seek such capital as is guided by modern morality, which appreciates not only the material advantages of success, reckoned by the annual dividends declared, but re-joices when, through its effort, the collective welfare of the working classes is developed.

MESSAGE TO AMERICA
"Return to your country, you,
our industrial guests; tell the great North American people that if they stretch out their hand they shall find ours. Tell them that Mexico is not the decomposed country pictured by the planners of our riches, in order to frighten off their own countrymen and thus have ample time to monopolize these riches
for their own benefit.

"Tell them that we are not willing that Mexico's wealth shall fall into the hands of trusts that exploit their own country's children and are a drawback to their own government; but that we nurse high ideals, in defense of which the Mexican people have shed their own blood and will shed more if profane hands try to smother them in the cradle. We see the American continent as a ship with oceans to starboard and to port.
Fate has embarked in that ship a family of nations. Its bow must always head toward the collective welfare, and there is no reason whatever for disagreement among nations which have the same aim and are sailing on the same vessel.

PHOENIX PURCHASES
18,000-ACRE PARK

SALT RIVER MOUNTAIN TRACT BOUGHT FOR $1 AN ACRE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PHOENIX, Oct. 7.—Appropriation of $18,000 has been made by the City Commission for purchase from the government of an 18,000-acre area in the Salt River Valley on the south, the nearest point five miles south of this city.
The tract is to be held in reserve for park purposes, though plans are being outlined for a system of roads, one of which is to be along the crest of the hills.
Many trails are to be provided, a sporty municipal golf course is to be laid out and opportunity is to be given for erection of several clubhouses.

The right of a municipality to hold such property and to maintain suits to quiet title has been upheld in a decision of the general land office, just received here, that affected the claim of the city of Phoenix, Ariz., to a plot of ground used for recreational purposes.

RUSSIA IS BUYING HORSES IN CANADA

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WINNIPEG, Oct. 7.—The Russian government has completed
arrangements to purchase 16,000
horses in Canada from Western provinces, according to an announcement here. Albert Champagne of Battleford, Sask., former member of the Dominion Parliament, is acting as agent for the soviets.

The first consignment of horses,
it is expected, will be shipped within a month. They are all draft horses and will be used for breeding purposes to raise the horse population on farms in Russia.
Because of the unsettled condition of agriculture in Russia since the soviet gained ascendancy, it is said, a serious shortage of horses has developed.

JAPANESE LINERS IN NEW CHARTERS

PACIFIC BOATS LOAD FOR EUROPE; FREIGHTS SHOW EFFECT

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
VANCOUVER (B. C.) Oct. 7.— Contracts with Japanese boats to carry large quantities of wheat from North Pacific ports to the United Kingdom and Europe, together with similar chartering for the transportation of wool cargoes from Australia to Great Britain, is having the effect of moving a large percentage of Japanese tonnage from the North Pacific routes.

These two routes, together with the boats chartered to carry lumber from Vancouver to the Atlantic seaboard, have accounted for sixty-two Japanese boats in the past two weeks. This means more than 800,000 tons of space that was available in the middle of September now has been taken.

A similar condition existed last fall and winter, when Japanese boats left the various Pacific ports for the Atlantic, and suddenly Japan commenced to buy lumber, wheat and various commodities, with the result that lumber from the port of Vancouver to Japan was taking a $18 rate in January against a $7 rate today.
The removal of this tonnage has already been reflected in a quotation on lumber of $9 for November.

TUCSON OFFICER'S ASSAILANT JAILED

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 7.—Five years ago, M. H. Shumaker, a Tuc-son officer, was shot and dangerously wounded by a vagrant whom he was taking to jail in an automobile. Chief of Police Dallas Ford has just received a telegram from the chief at Hot Springs, Ark., telling of the arrest of an individual who gave the name of Paul Maggerty, and who confessed to the shooting of a policeman in Tucson, as well as to prior desertion from the Navy.

GULF SHIPPING TIE-UP HURTS FLOUR EXPORTS

OKLAHOMA MILLERS UNABLE TO SHIP CARGOES UNTIL DECEMBER

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 7.—Exporting flour millers of Oklahoma have suffered losses of good European contracts within the last two weeks because of their inability to contract for shipment from Gulf ports. A port agent of one milling concern reported after acquiring the entire Gulf Coast that he was unable to find a single ship contract available before December. This and other concerns of Oklahoma and Texas, however, arranged for shipments on prior bookings and deliveries under these bookings will not be affected by the Gulf tie-up.

Flour prices on the first of the month reached the highest point of the year in Oklahoma. Soft wheat short patent flour was quoted as high as $4.50 a barrel and hard wheat short patent at $3.10 a barrel, in carload lots. The rising wheat market, which brought flour up 40 cents a barrel in ten days, did not affect the millfeed market, the latter remaining strong, however, under a good demand for all products.

USERS OF TELEPHONES INCREASE IN NUMBER

PORTERVILLE, Oct. 7.—There are 181 more telephones in the district served by the Porterville office of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company now than a year ago, according to new directories ready for distribution. There are 1481 subscribers within the district and of this number 1081 are within the city limits, giving a substantial increase in population during the last year. Manager H. C.
Britton states that equipment, including the new overhead multiple of 650 capacity, recently installed, will care for this gain and that of the immediate future.

MacMILLAN NAMES HARBOR FOR FRIEND

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
WISCONSIN (Wis.) Oct. 7.—The name of Sewall will be perpetuated in the Far North. Capt. Donald
B. MacMillan gave the name of Sewall Harbor to the harbor just south of Refuge Harbor, where the schooner Bowdoin was frozen into the ice for 230 days, until less than two months ago, a point just a little more than 11 deg.
from the North Pole. On the new map of North Greenland this name will appear in honor of the Sewall family of Wisconsin, the head of which is Charles B. Sewall, close friend of MacMillan and his explorer.

Mayor A. E. Hinton has ordered removal of all slot machines to of punch boards as well. The plea that value is returned will not be considered, as it is declared the that they have been found to en-

MEXICO OFFERS FRIENDLY HAND
President Obregon's Message
One of Peace Seeks Closer Relations With United States
Assistance, Not Exploitation, Need of Republic

NEW YORK, Oct. 7.—Cable reports stating that President Obregon of Mexico hinted at a new war
in his country in a recent speech
to the American industrial mission
at the government factories in Mexico City were denied today in a statement by the executive committee of the mission. With the statement, the first it has made
since its return to the United States, the executive committee made public the full text of President Obregon's speech.

The statement, which bears the signature of W. W. Nichols, chairman of the committee, and of the mission, Edward Frizer, F. D. Waterman and Mason Britton, reads in
part:

"In the name of the American
industrial mission, just returned from Mexico, we protest against the imputation ascribed to President Obregon in reports of the address made to the mission in Mexico, September 15. In these reports President Obregon was made to hint at a new war. No such an interpretation may honestly be put upon anything that he ever said to the members of the mission. The President's speech, which we now
make public for the first time, was the most significant of many significant utterances.

REALITIES NEEDS
The leaders in Mexico realize that one of the great needs of the country is universal education, and they are prepared to make great sacrifices in order to bring this about.

"The mission was deeply impressed by the wise attitude and
purpose of the government as expressed by President Obregon, and it is certain that any idea of war
is far from his calculations."

In making President Obregon's
speech public, the committee
called particular attention to passages in which he bespeaks the need of his country for foreign capital "guided by modern morality," and his unwillingness to have Mexico's wealth fall into the hands
of "trusts that exploit their own countrymen's children." President
Obregon likened the United States
and Mexico to two passengers on a great ship, sailing for the same destination.

President Obregon is quoted in
part as follows:

"We are greatly in need of capital; we need capital that comes from foreigners with hearts and conscience. We do not desire the capital of great trusts and big antepreneurs whose representatives are not in touch with their workmen, who do not know their workmen and never learn to love them. We seek such capital as is guided by modern morality, which appreciates not only the material advantages of success, reckoned by the annual dividends declared, but rational values, through its effort, the collective welfare of the working classes is developed.

MESSAGE TO AMERICA
"Return to your country, you,
our industrial guests; tell the great North American people that if they stretch out their hands they shall find ours. Tell them that Mexico
is not the decomposed country pictured by the pioneers of our riches,
in order to frighten off their own countrymen and thus have ample time to monopolize these riches
for their own benefit.

"Tell them that we are not willing that Mexico's wealth shall fall
into the hands of trusts that exploit their own country's children

prosperity; but that we sure

WINNIPEG, Oct. 7.—The Russian government has completed
arrangements to purchase 10,000
horses in Canada from Western breeders, according to an announcement here. Albert Champagne of Battleford, Sask., former member of the Dominion Parliament, is acting as agent for the soviets.

The first consignment of horses,
it is expected will be shipped with-
in a month. They are all draft horses and will be used for breeding purposes to raise the horse
population on farms in Russia.
Because of the unsettled condition of agriculture in Russia, since the soviets gained ascendancy, it is said, a serious shortage of horses has developed.

The Wrath to Come

By E. Phillips Oppenheim

Gertrude continued: "I do not regret for a single moment my experiment. The only regret I have is that I have failed."

"You know why?" he ventured. "You were very frank about it," she admitted. "But somehow, or other I could not believe that you knew yourself. You are a man of parts, even a little older than your years, and Susan Yeovil, for all her charm, is young. I used my brain upon the matter—foolishly—the one thing brain has nothing to do with. Finished, my dear Grant! That rug a little more closely round my neck, please. And don't you imagine for a moment that I am going to offer you my eternal friendship. About some matter my sentimentalism is not of the sloppy order. There's a jagged edge about our relations and always must be. But that's no reason why you shouldn't make the deck steady bring me some of that delicious herring."

"Where have you been and where are you going?" Grant asked, as soon as he had ministered to her wants.

"I've been in New Hampshire," she told him, "staying with one of the neglected places of my family. A wonderful spot amongst the hills. Incidentally I was ill there."

"I have a place but they are not concluded. My book, please, and then you can continue that swinging walk of yours. Afterwards pay me the little attentions one fellow passenger may offer to another, if you like. But rest assured that your liberation is complete."

Grant chose another deck for his promenade. The magnificent and primitive selfishness of his sex had asserted itself. He found nothing but relief in his meeting with Gertrude. He could, at least, go to Susan with his hands free, so far as the matter of the herring was concerned. It was that, for all the world, he feared that being of idealism which he had once or twice detected in her. Of course there was something artificial about the whole outlook. A thing which she knew that everybody else knew, ranked a little differently to that nebulous past which by common consent was somewhere locked away in the back chambers of a man's life. Yet, with it all, Susan's common sense was admirable. There was her father to guide her.

Later in the day he revisited Cornelius Blinn and found little improvement in his condition. The only moment when a spark of his old spirit showed itself was when, with a pitiful groan, he murmured: "And to think that I must return!"

"You are coming back to the States, then?" Grant asked quickly.

"For a single moment the man's self-control reasserted itself. He shook his head feebly.

"I have too many affairs on hand," he said, "to make plans. Maybe at once, maybe in many months."

"One thing is very certain. I shall not stay in England long. My own country I love. America I love. But England, no. Excuse me, Mr. Slater. Your look of health offends me. You look as though you were on your way to eat a hearty meal, and that offends me more. Come and see me when I am stronger, Muller!"

Grant strolled away, smiling. It was a very harmless and belated Cornelius Blinn, this. But for how long?

CHAPTER XVI

The preliminaries of Grant's mission to London seemed to him, eager to get into touch with the vital things, monotonous and a little wearisome. He paid his respects to his own Ambassador and received the entree to the embassy. Afterward he made a formal application for an appointment with Lord Yeovil, and, after a brief delay, was accorded an interview in Downing street at 4 o'clock that evening. The latter he filled up by calling with the naval attaché of his embassy upon the admiralty, and with the military attaché upon the war office. At 6 o'clock precisely he was received in Downing street by Arthur Lyman, who had come with a certain amount of surprise.

"Glad to see you and all that, Slater," he said, "but I never thought of you as being on the official side of anything. I thought you'd absolutely chuckled the service some years ago."

"I'm on a special mission," Grant explained. "They've sent me over to see one or two people here and especially Lord Yeovil. I'm going back on Saturday."

"We shall all be fellow passengers then," Lyman observed. "Do you think America will be able to stand the troops of us? Because we are all coming—even bringing our own little typists this time."

"Is Lady Susan?" Grant began hesitatingly.

"Yes, Lady Susan's coming along."

"She's all right, I suppose," Grant inquired. "I don't seem to have heard anything of her for some time."

"In the pink. She's been doing the honors for her father this season and doing them wonderfully, too."

"Engaged yet?" Grant ventured with a ridiculous affectation of carelessness.

"Nothing announced," was the cautious reply. "There are three or four of them running round behind a bit, although he's as keen as ever. Lord Glenarue's chief favorite for the moment, and there are a lot of rumors going about that Buckingham place has its eye on her. No matrimony news about you, I suppose, Slater?"

"None."

A little bell rang, and Grant was ushered into the presence of the man who, a few months ago, notwithstanding the difference in their ages, had been his most intimate friend. From the moment of his entrance, the undercurrent of the conversation was clear. Lord Yeovil was courteous, even friendly. Nevertheless the change in his demeanor would have been apparent to a man of fewer perceptions than Grant.

"Very glad to see you again, Slater," the Prime Minister said, motioning him to a seat. "It seems a long time since we used to sit cogitating our brains about those bridge problems."

"History is giving us something much more serious with which to occupy ourselves, sir," Grant replied. "All the things which you and I used to speak about in those days are coming to pass."

Lord Yeovil nodded.

"This time, I gather, you come to me officially."

"That is true, sir. I am the bearer of a message and representations from my government to

KINDA HATED TO SPOIL HER PLAN

So Thomas Let Her Marry Him; Gave Far Enough; Now

(BY CARL—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LONDON, Oct. 7.—According to Thomas Lowe of Melbourne, Australia, there was no husband in sight at all for his wife Margaret until he walked up the altar path in a war romance. Seeking a divorce, he declared she made all the arrangements for the wedding, so anxious was she to be married.

He didn't even get the license, he said. In fact, he had no intention of marrying, but so complete were the plans he didn't wish to disarrange them by not being present at the marriage. He won his divorce.

COMPLETION OF BEAUTIFUL RESTAURANT IN FILMLAND IS ANNOUNCED

HOLLYWOOD'S NEWEST IS READY FOR INSPECTION

Paulais Confectaurant Will Open Tomorrow as One of City's Finest Dining Shops

As an exemplification of unusual completeness and modern in restaurant construction, one of the outstanding achievements in local building work is the new Paulais Hollywood Confectaurant to be opened tomorrow on the southwest corner of Hollywood Boulevard and Las Palmas street. This structure represents the latest word in efficient methods of construction combined with beautiful surroundings and comfortable accommodations, and stands out as one of the showplaces of the city.

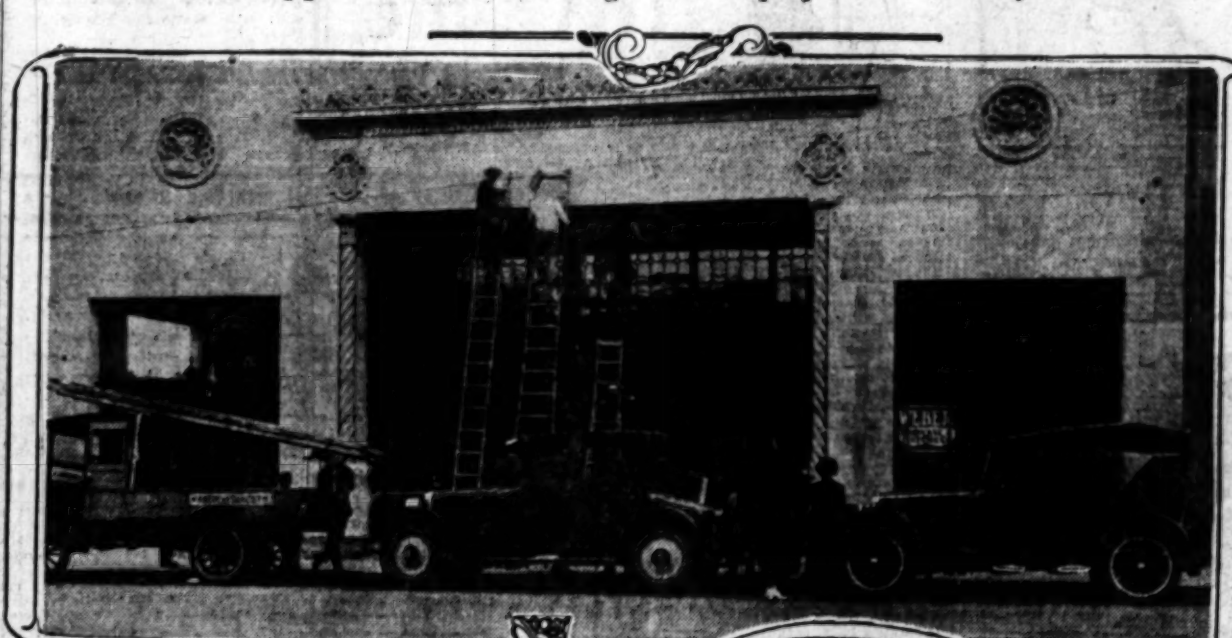

Because of its proximity to the picture studios of Hollywood, the Paulais Confectaurant is a place where the members of the film industry will find a most desirable place for their meals. The building is a masterpiece of modern architecture, and its interior is a work of art. LARGE SHOP COUNTER
One of the features of the structure is the coffee shop counter which is 125 feet in length, with a serving capacity for 500 persons in case the necessity arises and a total capacity for 800 during the day. It is in this volume that the Hollywood Paulais is not a branch unit but an entirely separate shop, being complete, distinctive and different and a component part of Hollywood's business activity.

RATS TABOO IN PAULAI'S NEW CAFE

Construction Methods Seal Building Against Vermin

The entire building which houses Paulais's new confectaurant which opens tomorrow to the motion-picture industry and the citizens of Hollywood, is rat and vermin proof. Provision against these pests was one of the first considerations in the plans originally drawn up for the new confectaurant and as it stands, the building and kitchen are said to be sealed tight against the entrance of all such.

ARTISTIC FOUNTAIN

Famous Sculptor Executes Piece for Paulais

The modeling of the beautiful Greek fountain which stands in the entrance to the confectaurant consumed three months. The theme of the fountain, "Spirit of the Woods," is the conception of Paulais. Richard Zeitner, famous sculptor, who executed the piece, has one of the most enviable reputations of any artist. Mr. Zeitner is a native Swiss. He studied in Rome, Naples and Florence, under the Italian masters of a generation ago, and won a great number of first prizes and medals at the Paris Exposition. Zeitner came to the Pacific Coast when he was engaged to do general art work on the capitals and arches of the San Francisco exposition in 1915. He was again recalled to the Coast to do the mural and capital decorations at the San Diego exposition.

MANY FEATURES FOR EFFICIENCY

Extensive Refrigeration Unit Provides Ample Supply

Modern Ventilating System is One of Finest

Other Conveniences Included Are of Latest Type

The seeming paradox of a confectaurant and soda fountain without ice is a reality at Paulais's new Hollywood store, which opens tomorrow with gala events when it will be officially dedicated to the motion-picture industry and the persons of Hollywood.

An extensive ice plant and system of refrigeration of sufficient capacity to provide every family in Hollywood with a block of ice every day has been installed in the confectaurant. No ice is made, however, but refrigeration pipes carry the compressed carbon dioxide gas to every part of the cafe. The carbon dioxide system instead of ammonia was used to insure against escaping ammonia fumes. The compressor has a capacity of twenty-two tons per day. There are forty miles of pipes in the establishment, used for the transmission of the products of the refrigeration, steam and hot water systems.

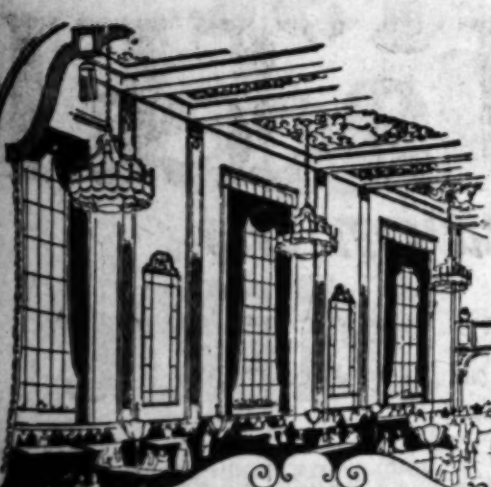

Six giant refrigerators in the basement, for storing the meats and perishable food products are kept at a zero temperature by the refrigeration pipes. Other coils go to the various ice water fountains located in various points in the dining-room, others to the soda fountain; others to a refrigerated salad table in the kitchen, where the salad ingredients are kept, and the salad plates are chilled before the dainties are placed thereon; others cool the air, which circulates through the system of ventilation and every point in the confectaurant requiring refrigeration is supplied by a system of coils. The confectaurant has been amply provided for in the way of equipment.

Paulais and its DISTINCTIVE FEATURES

THE CUISINE AND UNOBTRUSIVE SERVICE OF THE VENETIAN TEA ROOM
Good food... appetizing... seasoned with memories of far-off lands... Italy, France, the Norse countries, New England, the South—dishes for dainty appetites or for hungry, open-air men... with attention, prompt, quietly ready, that brings, through Paulais, a new comfort and delight to Hollywood.

THE FACILITIES AND COMFORT OF THE LUNCH AND SODA FOUNTAIN
The hurried noon-time lunch... the mid-forenoon or three o'clock sandwich or sweet or drink... the leisurely refreshment... the social occasion that allows a few minutes' chat over a soda or sundae: these are made pleasurable through the efficient Paulais service.

THE COURTESY OF THE CANDY COUNTER
Smartly immaculate attendants... delicious confections, housed in crystal-glass cases... prompt, smiling service, however small the purchase... a willingness to gratify fastidious tastes; these little courtesies make Paulais' Candy Counter distinctive.

MODERATE PRICES THAT HAVE POPULARIZED PAULAI'S.
Splendor, without penalizing the public for its patronage... good food... good service... moderate prices... an attractive, smart yet comfortable place to enjoy the social as well as physical pleasure of a good meal, and rub shoulders with the "Who's Who" of Hollywood—this marks the distinction of the new Paulais Confectaurant.

Cafe Workers at Paulais' Get Consideration

In the Paulais Confectionery every effort has been made to minimize the labors of the workers and at the same time to permit the finest possible quality of service. Everything was planned and executed to save unnecessary steps. Behind the long counters water containers, dishes, napkins and silverware are placed close together, requiring no steps for the waitress and eliminating delay in service.

The same idea has been carried out all through the establishment. At the candy counters, wrapping paper, boxes and twine are in handy reach of the clerks and, in the cafe proper, orders are placed and served to the waitresses through a wicket, saving the latter from a trip into the kitchen.

MANY FEATURES FOR EFFICIENCY

temperatures of temperature, an important consideration in the modern hotel, home or cafe. Hot and cold air and hot and cold water are necessities, the provision of which entails intricate and costly machinery. Paulais's Hollywood equipment includes the following:

Complete system of ventilation with arrangements for heating or cooling the air as required for reasonable comfort.

System of refrigeration and carbon dioxide compressor with refrigeration coils extending to various ice chests, soda fountains, ice water stations, salad tables, etc.

For the hot water, a tank with a capacity of 700 gallons of hot water per hour, a double set of fluid heaters, the largest size made and two boilers, to provide steam and hot water to the steam cookers, dishwashers and for other kitchen uses, have been installed. An example of just how extensive the perfection and improvement of the water cooling system and ice water system may be is that which has been provided for patrons of Paulais.

A system of refrigeration pipes has been installed throughout the store. At alternating points may be found ice water stations, where ice water in any quantities may be drawn. These are conveniently located so that waitresses do not have to walk far or keep the patrons waiting for a glass of clear, crystal ice water.

The water is first filtered and run through a softener to eliminate all alkali salts and heavy foreign substance that might make the water unfit for drinking, after which it is run into metal ice water tanks which are lined with refrigeration coils from the refrigeration plant. This obviates the necessity of putting ice in the water to cool it.

COMFORT IS KEYNOTE OF SODA FOUNTAIN

At Paulais' new Hollywood confectionery which has just opened one does not sit up to the fountain. For the Paulais fountain, and the chairs in front of it are so constructed that the patrons sit down in easy, comfortable chairs, with arms and a broad back, rest their feet on the floor instead of a rail, and dine or drink at the fountain in the same comfort as at a table. This note of service is said to be carried out in all the Paulais equipment.

GIRL BANDIT AT WORK

Paradise Woman Tells Experience With Bobbed-Hair Robber

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PARADISE, Oct. 7.—Police are searching for a bobbed-hair bandit who, with the aid of a male companion, held up and robbed Aileen Allen, one-time national fancy diving champion, of 1919 East Villa street, at a late hour last night.

According to the young woman's report to the police a bobbed-hair girl driving a car forced her to the curb on a lonely road near San Pascual street. The woman held-up's male companion, a youth of approximately 19 years of age, jumped from the car and shoved a nickel-plated revolver in Mrs. Allen's face. He then snatched her purse containing $11. When the boy attempted to take her watch, Mrs. Allen struck him with her fist with such vigor that the bandit was overbalanced. Mrs. Allen immediately put her car in motion and summoned the police. Detectives Kaighin and Decker are working on the case.

OPENS AMERICA'S FINEST Confectaurant

Paulais arrives! Paulais, resplendent in a cosmopolitan atmosphere all its own . . . comes to Hollywood. Mingling the incomparable art of the old world with the latest of America's conveniences, Paulais becomes the homing spot of all the color, the romance, the vivid life of Hollywood. To you and to all Hollywood this palace of confections, food and service is dedicated.

Paulais is America's ONE Confectaurant

Paulais inaugurates a new and distinctive institution . . . the CONFECTAURANT! Not a cafe . . . nor a restaurant . . . nor a dining room. But a new and superior arrangement for serving the various moods and tastes of discriminating epicures. It combines the priceless surroundings of great dining rooms with the excellent cuisine of masters—all at moderate prices.

Paulais is America's finest CONFECTAURANT—built for Hollywood and peculiar to Hollywood's needs. A place of fine foods and unobtrusive service—of excellent appointments and a cuisine characteristic of those well trained.

Nor could it be Paulais without its famous candy, to which much space has been given; or its pastries, generously provided for. A great fountain counter, one hundred and thirty-five feet long gives ample space for fountain patrons or those whose time limits them to coffee and sandwich luncheons.

The Venetian Tea Room, a step below the level of the entrance floor, has been planned by one who knows Hollywood's tastes and prejudices. The arrangement allows neighborliness without crowding, yet ample room for convenience and comfort.

Service on the wide balcony above offers a pleasant feature for smaller parties.

Paulais is unique in its individuality—its smartness—its camaraderie. An institution distinctly of and for Hollywood. It is not a branch but complete in every respect. Paulais Hollywood Confectaurant fittingly crowns the success of years of serving the Los Angeles public and winning its loyal patronage. As the doors are opened, you are invited to feast your eyes on the beauty of its architectural and decorative scheme. Ours is the pleasure of introducing to you, as one of Hollywood's thousands, the comfort, convenience and absolute satisfaction that goes with Paulais service.

MAN ENDS LIFE UNDER LOCOMOTIVE

Halts at Tracks, Throws Self in Front of Wheels and is Mangled

A man believed to be Frank Martin, about 70 years of age, committed suicide yesterday by throwing himself under the wheels of a Southern Pacific freight locomotive near Seventh and Alameda streets, according to police. The train was in charge of Engineer L. L. Hollingsworth and Conductor J. A. Shay.

Police Officer Barada found on the man's person two bank books in the name of Martin, showing that he has $189.44 on deposit. The victim, according to Engineer Hollingsworth, stopped near the track as the locomotive approached and then threw himself in front of the wheels. The body was mangled. The man was about five feet ten inches tall, weighed about 160 pounds and was dressed in blue overalls. The body is being held at the Remington Mortuary.

LOCAL WOMEN LEAVE FOR MISSION IN CHINA

Gladys M. and Florence Skevington, only daughters of the Rev. Dr. Samuel J. Skevington of the First Baptist Church of Hollywood, sailed last night aboard the President Adams for China where they are to enter the foreign missionary service. With them went Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webb and Mr. and Mrs. James Tye, bound for the same station, Chengtu, which they expect to reach after Christmas. Although part of their journey lies through the war zone in China, their plans were not changed. A large group of friends were at the pier to see the young women off.

HELD IN FORGOTTY CHARGE
Asserted to have forged a government check for $75, Goodman Cantrell was taken into custody yesterday by United States Secret Service Agent W. W. Ashe. He was locked in the County Jail and held in lieu of $1000 bail.

Autos Seized by Government Are Sold at Auction

United States Marshal Al Sittel turned auctioneer yesterday and sold six automobiles confiscated by the government in recent months. Uncle Sam was $2240 richer after the sale, which took place in the rear of the Federal Building.

The big Studebaker automobile that was formerly the property of Juan de Dios Garay, so-called Mexican witch doctor, brought $1600. Juan won't miss the vehicle much—he's spending the next six years at Leavenworth. The largest sum was obtained for a closed car that went for $1100, and the lowest for an old taxicab, $100.

Asks Injunction to Keep Sister From Her Child

Declaring they feared she would exert an "unwholesome influence" over their daughter, Lewis B. Cummings and his wife, May, yesterday filed suit in Superior Court asking that Mrs. Cummings's sister, Georgia C. Pickering, be restrained from visiting or communicating with the plaintiff's daughter, Dorothy Cummings.

The complaint recited that the defendant had sought to prejudice the 15-year-old girl against her parents by telling her they had not accorded her enough liberty. The girl was said recently to have been made a ward of Juvenile Court, and is now at El Retiro, a county institution, according to the complaint.

BUILDING BOND ISSUE OFFERED

Milton G. Cooper Building is Security for Loan

Woolco Realty Corporation Offers Serial Notes

Gas Heating Appliance Men to Start Factory

A syndicate of local investment houses consisting of Alvin H. Frank & Co., Hunter Dulin & Co., Banks-Huntley & Co., and Bond & Goodwin & Tucker Co., Inc., are today offering $1,000,000 Milton G. Cooper Building Company first mortgage 4 1/2 per cent sinking fund gold bonds, due 1929, at 100 and interest yield 5 1/2 per cent.

The Milton G. Cooper & Son Building Company has been organized to own and operate the properties and the building recently completed at the southeast corner of Ninth and Los Angeles streets, and occupied by the Milton G. Cooper Dry Goods Company, formerly Cooper, Coate & Casey Dry Goods Co.

The bonds will be secured by a first closed mortgage on the property which are improved with a newly completed eleven-story Class "A" reinforced concrete building and an auxiliary class "A" structure used as a shipping department. The total value of the security is conservatively appraised at more than $1,775,000. Both buildings are occupied by the Milton G. Cooper Dry Goods Company, under a long-term lease, which provides for a yearly rental to cover both interest charges and amortize the entire issue by its maturity date.

The Milton G. Cooper Dry Goods Company has been established in Los Angeles since 1906 and does a general wholesale and retail business. Net earnings of the company for the year ended 1923, before Federal taxes, were $237,851, or approximately five times the interest requirements on the total amount of this issue.

WOOLWORTH BUILDING NOTES
Goldman, Sachs & Co., New York, announce that they have placed privately a block of $2,500,000 Woolco Realty Corporation serial notes, endorsed by the F. W. Woolworth Company, due January 15, 1926 to January 15, 1932, inclusive.

The Woolco Realty Corporation of which H. T. Parson, head of the F. W. Woolworth Company, is president, bought the Woolworth Building last April from the Broadway Park Place Corporation, the estate of the late F. W. Woolworth.

Part of the purchase price was paid in the Woolco Realty Corporation notes, which have been sold privately by the bankers. All of the stock of the Woolco Realty Corporation is owned by individuals identified with the management and control of the F. W. Woolworth Company.

OIL COMPANY REPORTS

Nine Months' Statement Indicates Betterment Over Last Year; Colorado Prospects Bright

Decided improvement in net income is shown by the Union Oil Company of California for the nine months ended September 30. In the statement issued yesterday by President W. L. Stewart and Controller R. D. Matthews, net profits are reported at $9,000,000, an increase of $1,000,000 over the corresponding period of 1923, and are the equivalent after deduction for depreciation, depletion and other charges to $5.64 on the $4,164,500 shares outstanding in the hands of the public. This compares with $4 earned for the first nine months of last year, and $9 for the same period of 1922.

Net profits subject to depreciation during the nine months were $17,500,000. From this sum has been deducted provisions for depreciation and depletion amounting to $5,200,000, and labor and incidental cost of new drilling amounting to $3,300,000.

Production of crude oil by the company and controlled companies combined was 1,200,000 barrels. Present daily production of the company's wells is approximately 42,000 barrels. One hundred and forty wells are shut in which are capable of producing 12,000 barrels per day.

FIELD OPERATIONS
During the first nine months of the year fifty-four new wells were brought in and eight were deepened. The report states that on August 8 oil was found in the Whittaker well in Larimer county, Colorado. The well is an artesian well and is being drilled to a depth of 10,000 feet. The well should be opened up within the next week. The outlook for Union Oil properties near Fort Collins, Colo., is distinctly encouraging, the report states.

The nine months' net profit, after deducting $17,500,000 for depreciation and depletion, and $3,300,000 for labor and incidental cost of new drilling, was $9,000,000, or $2.16 per share. The net profit for the nine months ended September 30, 1923, was $8,000,000, or $1.92 per share. The net profit for the nine months ended September 30, 1922, was $9,000,000, or $2.25 per share.

MEXICAN BOND ISSUE READY SOON
Texans Engraver Working on Certificates; Opposed to General Practice

Further light, and presumably a touch of authenticity, was shed yesterday on the $50,000,000 6 per cent Mexican government bonds offered a few days ago by J. L. Arlt, the "mystery man," of Austin, Tex., who advised from Arlt's city stated that the bond certificates are being engraved by E. L. Stock & Co., a printing company of Austin. The message said the bonds would be ready for delivery in about two weeks.

This report is the first tangible evidence received in the bond market that the loan is actually a legitimate offering. There is, however, a shadow cast over the success of the sale from the standpoint of investors who desire bonds which satisfy the listing requirements of the New York Stock Exchange. It was pointed out yesterday by a Los Angeles corporation executive, formerly a partner in a large New York investment house, that the Stock Exchange requires bond issues to be guaranteed by a national distributing syndicate, and that a firm in Austin, Tex., is designated in this list.

Reports from the State Department indicate that the State Department will be utilized, according to the circulars received here, to enable the Mexican government to discharge its obligations to the international bankers' committee, which have been overdue since July 1. More of the proceeds will be used for settlement with the international bankers next July and the balance expended for governmental purposes.

As yet no information has come either from Arlt or Washington to indicate that the State Department has given its permission for the loan.

Supremacy of Los Angeles in Business Seen
"I am more than ever convinced that Los Angeles is the commercial 'white spot' in the country," declared Irving H. Hellman, vice-president of the State Department Commercial Trust and Savings Bank, on returning yesterday from an extensive tour of the East, which included attendance at the national convention of the American Bankers' Association at Chicago.

Electric Lines Increase Use of Bus Extensions

Electric railways are now operating nearly 2000 motor buses as feeders and extensions of their trolley lines. Bus Transportation reports. A national-wide survey shows 155 railroads in the bus field, fifty-five more than at this time last year, when 100 trolley companies operated 162 buses. This indicates an investment of more than $5,000,000 made during the year for buses by electric railways.

Bus routes totaling 133 miles have been added, and railway-owned buses are now operating on 2406 miles of highway in the United States and Canada. The largest bus fleet in the country is that of the Public Service Railway of Newark, N. J., which through its subsidiary, the Public Service Transportation Company, operates more than 600 buses.

Bus service has been installed or extended by electric railways during the year in Los Angeles and Oakland, Cal.; Washington, D. C.; Baltimore, Md.; Trenton, N. J.; Rock Island, Ill.; Dubuque, Iowa; Jamestown, N. Y.; Springfield, Ill.; Beaumont, Tex.; Detroit, Mich.; Birmingham, Ala.; Vicksburg, Miss.; and Salt Lake City, Utah.

Frozen Assets and Their Effects Upon Wealth

FROZEN assets are those which cannot be liquidated. They are more common following periods of expansion and speculation.

They result from failure to recognize a limit to the amount of expansion which can be supported for any considerable period—impossibility of an indefinite continuance in demand and upward trend of prices—failure to measure the amount of demand supported by speculation rather than current need.

The inevitable happens—sooner or later—demand shrinks below any estimate—prices follow the trend of demand—speculative values are removed from prices, and frequently a level below cost of production is reached.

The payment of money borrowed to finance these investments depends upon liquidation. However, a collapse usually occurs overnight—without notice or anticipation—and liquidation is impossible. The loans become due and are called just the same.

Insolvency follows—because of frozen assets—because of failure to limit commitments in some particular field—because of failure to remember that demand and prices are subject to reaction and breathing spells which may be prolonged.

Banks have closed their doors, corporations forced into bankruptcy and individuals have had to start all over again—because of frozen assets—and failure to diversify investments.

Good bonds save many investors and institutions from financial disaster—they make it possible to mobilize ready cash and take advantage of opportunities when others are over-extended and forced to sacrifice.

Every man, woman and corporation should insure their solvency through the ownership of good bonds. You will find the office of this company interested in your investment problems.

Abraham Lincoln lives again in one of the most remarkable motion pictures in the history of the stage.

On the last night at the Criterion Theater before an audience packed the house.

The story Abraham Lincoln is a vivid, picturesque and reborn forth as a wholly human and delightful person—as real as any man who lives and loves. “Go fought and loved his country, who also smiled; who outed a slicker in a horse trade; who liked a girl who was almost his; who loved and fought and fought and joked. At the last, the man upon the tank, stopped the responsibility of any man has ever borne. It is quite within the spirit of the thing to imagine that the line should be written ‘Abraham Lincoln’”

Times reporter and to Detective Lieutenants Cullen and French and Special Agent Carter. In this interview, Mrs. Solomon admitted she was present when Dr. Steele performed the operation upon Mrs. Leslie's face, which later developed into a fatal case of blood poisoning. She also stated that her mother held out a naturopathic license, which did not grant her the legal right to perform a surgical operation, and that she had never studied plastic surgery in any institution.

DUTY TO TESTIFY

"Since my mother disappeared several weeks ago, I have been unable to find out where she is," Mrs. Solomon stated yesterday. "She left me bewildered in all of her own troubles, to contend with—will collectors, complaints from her patients and such."

"I am glad the investigation was made. It has taken a great burden of worry and sorrow from my mind. I feel so much better now. She is my mother, but I believe, as the authorities believe, that she should be stopped from continuing with this work, which she has no scientific knowledge. I am sorry to hear she is in such a state of mind, and that my step in the grand jury may have aided in convincing the grand jury that my mother had done wrong. I felt it to be my conscientious duty to tell the truth."

DOCTOR TESTIFIES

Dr. James H. Dean, 1601 South Figueroa street, was the first witness called before the grand jury. Dr. Dean testified that he attended Mrs. Leslie on August 15 and cared for her until her death. He reported to the authorities that he had found two tiny incisions on Mrs. Leslie's face, that abscesses had resulted from an infectious condition of the incisions, and that the abscesses had caused death, with pneumonia as a contributory cause.

Mrs. Emma Graham, a close friend of the dead woman, followed Mrs. Solomon into the grand jury room. Two days ago she had reported to the authorities that she had cared for Mrs. Leslie in her home and that Mrs. Leslie had told her Dr. Steele had performed the facial operation.

Mrs. Grace E. Fish, niece of the dead woman, was absent from the city at the time of the operation. She told the investigators that she witnessed Mrs. Leslie's condition after the operation, that her aunt was in excellent health prior to operation and that her aunt had told her she had performed the facial operation.

In trouble before the grand jury, coupled with the reports of Detective Lieutenants Cullen and French, and Special Agent Carter, apparently was accepted as enough evidence upon which to indict for manslaughter, as the indictment was immediately returned thereafter.

Dr. Gertrude Steele had been in trouble before. In 1911 she was charged with the murder of her son-in-law, the husband of Mrs. Gertrude Solomon, by chloroform poisoning. The charge was dismissed. Later, the State Supreme Court handed down a decision affirming the legality of the practice of drugs and surgery under a naturopathic license. This decision was in the case of Millip v. State Board of Medical Examiners, and it is upon this decision that Dr. Steele based her defense.

DEFINES CRIME STUDY AS 'BUNK'

In bringing a criminal to justice are ruling the respect of the people for the courts and the law and criminologists are doing their share to destroy this respect.

"Give us more hospitals; give us more insane asylums and jails and let us try police methods for a while. If a child is arrested for a crime, the mother should be forced to give the child a good 'whaling' in the presence of a police officer. If the kid got in trouble again, the father should be compelled to give him a better licking and if the child got in trouble a third time then he should have his head examined."

"Our easy-going methods have raised a generation of criminals. There were 10,000 murders in the United States last year. Why don't they have that many in England? I'll tell you. It's because they hang 'em over there two weeks after they kill a man. Let us hang 'em and we'll find it the best method."

The meeting closed after Capt. Plummer's talk.

Dr. Eaton discussed the "mut" letters received by the department and declared that many of them are worth following up. Patrolman Stewart scored the custom of having persons charged with insanity tried by a jury on the grounds that jury trial invariably leads to the dismissal of the charges. Dr. Shepard devoted himself to a discussion of the treatment of criminals. He declared that the majority are mentally deranged and should be treated as such.

LINCOLN LIVES IN SCREEN PLAY

with stooped shoulders walked into the Ricketts' office. He said his name was George A. Billings. He was a minor employee of the city in the street department. Barring a little experience in a tank town stock company he knew nothing about the project, but he staggered them by saying he would like to play the part of Abraham Lincoln. Something about him so impressed the Ricketts brothers that they took the chance of their lives and gave him the part.

It was only one of the providential things that seemed to surround this picture. In the darkest day when it appeared as though the project would have to be abandoned Louis B. Goodall, a Maine man of wealth who spends his winters here, happened in. He neither knew nor cared anything about motion pictures, but he cared a lot about Lincoln, so he started the ball rolling.

Senator Cornelius Cole had been Lincoln's close friend and companion and had sat on the platform when the Gettysburg address was delivered. Prof. Bailey of the University of Southern California had lived near poor Lincoln in a little old lady in Garvanza had been an actress in the cast of "The American Credo" the night that Lincoln was shot.

LABOR OF LOVE

Actresses like Louise Fazenda wanted to be in the picture in his extra-girl pay—to do their bit. "Abraham Lincoln" was a labor of love. It is the gift of young people who gave their genius and of other people who gave their money—a gift to America and to the generations to come. Also a gift to the motion-picture industry—a picture that must stand out forever from the trivial and dross and unworthy pictures.

"Abraham Lincoln," the picture, stands out from other great historical pictures in this, that every incident of the narrative is authentic historical fact. The life of Lincoln was so rich in incident and drama that it did not have to be placed out with fiction.

The picture begins with the birth of Lincoln in a decrepit old log cabin, battered by the terrible tempest that history records as halting the birth of the Great Emancipator.

It follows him through his poverty-stricken boyhood when he was educating himself before the flickering light of a fireplace with the back of an old shovel for his writing-tablet.

On through his boyhood to his meeting with Ann Rutledge, the love story of the great leader.

Some of us forget that Lincoln's life story contained a beautiful and tragic romance. His love for a beautiful girl of the little frontier town is one of the great love stories of history.

As transferred to the screen, it stands alone as all the love stories I have ever seen. Ann Rutledge is played superbly by Miss Ruth Clifford. She is a very beautiful girl who, by her own efforts, resembles the picture of the real Ann Rutledge. She has a wistful charm and a decency.

Miss Rutledge's story is a comedy as a relief to the bitter sorrow of this love story. Lincoln's life story is a tragedy of the military art—to his own chagrin and humiliated usefulness.

Lincoln finally married a Kentucky belle who had a strange premonition that this ungainly frontiersman would be the president of the United States and she captured him.

HISTORIC EPISODES
The picture shows in a series of the most charming episodes his debates with Douglas, his campaign for President. When the news finally came of his nomination for the United States, Lincoln could only half rejoice, because in the moment of his exaltation he suddenly remembered that Mrs. Lincoln had told him to bring home a beef steak.

And so the story sweeps him into the White House and through the terrible days of the Civil War. Days of anguish when it seemed that the whole world was filled with accusing voices denouncing him as a murderer and a blunderer; when his own Cabinet snuffed him as a political accident. Days when defeat followed defeat for the Union forces and darkness seemed to gather in about the nation.

THRILLS AND COLOR
This picture tells the story of Lincoln's courage and anguish during these days as no book could tell it. I can not here relate the incidents of this part of the play; it is a thing of striking cinematic qualities, a host of thrills and color and great drama.

Naturally every incident of the picture centers on a actor who plays Lincoln. Where this unknown, inexperienced amateur came by his histrionic genius neither he nor I can tell. All I can say is that the acting of Mr. Billings is a motion-picture miracle. He looks and acts like Lincoln to begin with; his physical resemblance is surprising. There is not a place in the picture where he fails. He is the finished, accomplished artist. It is incredible that it could be so, but it must be so, in the history of the stage and screen as one of the supreme accomplishments of the art of acting.

Guild to Meet for Collection of Needlework

A preliminary meeting of the Needlework Guild of America, Los Angeles branch, to prepare for the annual in-gathering of garments on November 22, will be conducted at 3 p. m. today at the Ebell Club.

The Needlework Guild of Los Angeles, which is a member of the Community Chest, last year gave valuable aid to sixty-seven local charitable organizations, principally by supplying thousands of new garments to various institutions for the needy.

The guild is unique in its methods of social service in that its members, individually and in groups, spend many days during the year, and also large sums of money, in preparing garments for the poor. On "in-gathering" days, trucks are sent from house to house to gather the contributions in clothing. These garments, together with those purchased and made by the guild workers, are then assorted and distributed among charitable institutions.

RIVERSIDE FAIR

value in Riverside county and that great strides in methods of cultivation and acreage planted are being made each year.

The cotton-growing districts of Riverside county are in the Coachella, Palo Verde and Perla valleys, and each community erected an individual display showing the grades and varieties of the crop being cultivated. The government had added to the display by a novel exhibit showing what cotton means to the country at large and emphasizing the importance of the cotton crop. Other booths and displays show the way in which the raw crop is worked into the various commercial commodities. Process of manufacture in textiles is shown by a comparison of old methods of hand carding, spinning and weaving, as compared with the modern rapid-power machinery.

GOV. RICHARDSON DUE

Friday, to be known as Farm Bureau Day, will be given over in great part to cotton culture. Gov. Richardson will visit the fair on that day and H. H. Clark of Imperial county, president of the California State Cotton Growers' Association, will be in charge of the meeting. Members of the organization at which State and Federal experts will be present to discuss various phases of the industry.

Eight different counties have sent displays so that a visitor gets a very good idea of the variety of California produce. Among the outside communities contributing displays, those of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange and Humboldt counties stand most prominently, each showing to advantage the best the localities have to offer.

Various organizations of Riverside county have contributed to the display by making creditable shows of expert poultry production, bee culture, rodent eradication, dairy specialties, and the care of orchards.

A striking point in the agricultural display is the fact that the products come from Beaumont orchards, a mile in the air, and from the data gardens of India, below the level of the sea. "Riverside county," the booster, "is not a community, it's an empire." Data culture, one of the newest California industries, is given a separate tent, which, decorated to represent the Egyptian gardens of the Nile, boasts a live growing date garden. The great green groves brought from the Coachella Valley and from Imperial county and transplanted, fruit and all.

The display shows not only methods of date culture, but how the fruit is picked, cleaned and packed for market.

THURSDAY INDIAN DAY

More room has been made available for industrial, educational and vocational exhibits than has been true in former years, because there is no live stock or poultry display.

The women's section, educational booths, home industry displays, exhibits teaching everything from darning socks to intricate economic silk weaving, are the grounds. The public schools of the Sherman Indian Institute have interesting displays, while the Red Cross and the local organizations have educational booths of various kinds.

The Indian school has a large display in which are shown examples of lace making, rug weaving and pottery molding. The band of the school provided music for the opening day.

Thursday will be Indian Day. Eight hundred students of the school, girls and boys, will participate in military drill, games and folk dances. A program of Indian sports, including sack race, horse race, will be given.

The race program, which will extend through all five days of the fair, opened yesterday. The fair is offering $1000 in prizes for the races this year, in addition to the $10,000 prize given as premiums for displays of various kinds.

Perhaps the most interesting event of the opening day yesterday was a contest between thirteen first-aid teams from all parts of the State. These teams are composed of men working in large manufacturing plants and are trained to give first aid to accident victims. The contest was held under the auspices of the State Bureau of Mines.

Special events and special programs are arranged for each day until the 11th inst., when the fair will close.

NURSES HEAR ADDRESS

Dr. Von KleinSmid is Speaker at First District Meeting

Dr. Rufus E. Von KleinSmid, president of the University of Southern California, delivered the principal address last night at the first meeting of nurses enrolled in District No. 2 of the Nurses' Association in this new clubhouse at Third and Lucas streets. Dr. Von KleinSmid, who officiated at the laying of the corner-stone of the new clubhouse just a year ago, paid high tribute to the nurses. About 250 nurses and their friends were present.

Mrs. Henry Dietrich, president of District No. 2 of the association, presided at the meeting and Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Head of Pasadena sang. The nurses will give a tea at the clubhouse Friday afternoon and a banquet on November 12 to raise additional funds for furnishing the clubhouse.

HOPE FOR AIR MAIL BRIGHTER

Conference of Postal Heads
Here in Few Days

Third Assistant Postmaster-
General Due Tomorrow

Local Patronage Seen as Sure
Way to Get Service

Prospects that Los Angeles would soon have a direct air mail service seemed brighter yesterday, when Postmaster P. P. O'Brien was notified by telegram and letter of the meeting here within the next few days of directors of the Air Mail Service and officials of the Post-office Department from Washington.

W. E. La Follette, superintendent of the western division of the Air Mail Service and Luther K. Bell, traffic manager of the same service, will meet here Friday morning, according to a telegram received from Bell by Postmaster O'Brien yesterday.

W. Irving Glover, Third Assistant Postmaster-General, is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles this morning. O'Brien was notified by mail. Glover handles the financial affairs of the Postoffice Department.

While there was no official statement to the effect that the visit of the three men would complete final arrangements for the direct air-mail service, it was regarded as significant that they would be in the city at the same time. Also, it was pointed out, Bell, who was not expected here before next Sunday, has advanced the date of his arrival. These facts, together with the interest Postmaster-General New has expressed in the hoped-for Los Angeles air-mail service, were regarded as indications that definite action quite likely will be forthcoming in the near future.

Los Angeles, according to Postmaster O'Brien, can do much toward getting the service by liberally patronizing the air-mail service. When the city can supply 500 pounds of air-mail a day, the department would consider it sufficient business to warrant the new planes. Postmaster O'Brien declared, and, furthermore, 500 pounds a day directed to this point would be more than the San Francisco plane now in service could handle, thus almost forcing the department to give Los Angeles a direct service.

FLYERS MAY AGAIN PASS ABOVE CITY

Globe-Girdlers to Take Airships South on Way to Dayton Field

The "round-the-world" aviators may be back in Southern California next week, on route to the East where they will turn in their airships and take leave of absence for a rest. Mrs. Roberta Harding, mother of Lieut. John Harding, pilot of the New Orleans, received a telegram to this effect from her son yesterday. The flyers are now at Dayton attending the big air-craft affair there, and will leave for Seattle today by train. Their planes are still at Seattle. The message said their orders were to fly from Seattle to San Diego by way of San Francisco and Santa Monica, then across Texas to New Orleans, where there will be a celebration. From New Orleans the pilots will fly to Chicago for another celebration, and then to McCook Field at Dayton, where the planes will be turned in.

Guardian to File Suit to Recover on Valhalla Lot

An echo of the complaints made by section buyers in Valhalla, Memorial Park against the promoters came yesterday in Probate Court when Judge J. Perry Wood ordered the guardian of Almes Josephine Edwards, a minor, to file suit for recovery of $550 said to have been paid out of the estate for a lot in the park. This action was taken by the court when it was brought out that the guardian had bought the lot for the minor.

In issuing the order, Judge Wood said, "It appears that this lot is practically worthless," and that "it was sold to the guardian with the knowledge that it was being sold to the estate of a minor."

Experts to Aid City Employees on Back Taxes

A committee of certified public accountants has been appointed by William C. Kottlerman, president of the Los Angeles Chapter of the Certified Public Accountants' Association of Southern California, to aid city employees in the payment of back taxes under the recent ruling of the Internal Revenue Commissioner, and also to seek the withdrawal of the order. A member of this committee will leave for Washington shortly and make a personal appearance before the Internal Revenue Commissioner in an effort to have the ruling withdrawn. The committee consists of George M. Thompson, Eugene Berger, Ernest H. Godfrey, William R. Wright and Mr. Kottlerman.

HUMMING BIRD CAFE IS DENIED DANCE PERMIT

The dancing-with-meals permit held by the Humming Bird Cafe at 1143 East Twelfth street having been revoked on account of improper conditions at the restaurant, the Board of Police Commissioners yesterday also refused to issue a dance-hall permit for the same location. The commission granted a permit for dance hall and skating rink at 523 South Central avenue to be conducted by the Auditorium Assembly Company.

MALLARD BACKS LIBRARY BOARD

Councilman Obtains Delay on Adverse Report

Favors Appropriation of $114,000 as Asked

Debate on Proposition Takes Place Today

The board of library directors, which was attacked in a Finance Committee report read to the City Council yesterday recommending a refusal of the board's request for an appropriation of $114,000 to complete the purchase of the Flower-street frontage for the new $1,500,000 Central Public Library to be built on Normal Hill, found a friend yesterday in Councilman Mallard. He secured twenty-four hours' delay for consideration of the committee report. The debate is scheduled to take place today, with Chairman Mushet urging adoption of the committee's report and Councilman Mallard favoring the appropriation.

The committee report recommending a "No" vote by the Council on the request for the $114,000 declared that the library's income this year from taxation will be $17,000 greater than last year, due to increased property value assessment upon which the library's income is based, called attention to the $14,000 rental secured this year from Normal Hill from the owners of an automobile parking station, and further criticized the library directors for asserted discrimination against California products by specifying Indiana limestone for the building instead of California tufa stone, and said that the latter would cost $45,000 less than the Indiana.

MALLARD'S STAND

In outlining the reasons for favoring the appropriation of the $114,000 for the library board, Councilman Mallard said:

"One year ago the former Finance Committee and the Council estimated that a $100,000 bond issue would be sufficient to purchase the Flower-street frontage for the library and leave a margin of $10,000 to be used for furniture for the library building. The bond issue carried, but under condemnation proceedings the court awarded the owners of the land $214,000, or $114,000 more than the bond issue. I feel that the Council is morally obligated to make up the difference. I am informed that the board would accept $100,000 from the Council, as the $14,000 could be appropriated from the $14,000 secured from the rental of the hill for a parking station."

The present controversy in the Council over raising funds for the purchase of the Flower-street frontage is the latest in the long series which have delayed the building of the new central library. The bond issue for the building was authorized by the voters in 1921—more than three years ago—and was for a total of $1,500,000, of which $1,000,000 was for branch libraries and $500,000 for the building, equipment and furnishings for the central building. The branch libraries have been built and are in use.

ADVERTISING CALLED KEY TO SUCCESS

Colgate Expert Speaks at Local Club on Need of Business Co-operation

Citing the success achieved by the California Fruit Growers' Association as an illustration of the advantage of co-operation in business, George Fowler, director of advertising for Colgate & Co., in an address to members of the Los Angeles Advertising Club at the Biltmore yesterday, said that co-operative functioning among members of an organization working for a given purpose is the key to progress and prosperity.

Individuals who attain any considerable degree of success in any line of human endeavor are notable for their Napoleonic methods of placing experts at the heads of the departments of their special enterprises," said Mr. Fowler. "It may sound paradoxical but it is true that the man who employs able men than himself to conduct his business is an able man than any one of the men he employs."

Another speaker was Charley Faddock who briefly reviewed the Olympic Games of the past and predicted success for American athletes at the 1932 Olympiad in Los Angeles.

The entertainment feature of the program was provided by members of Harry Carroll's Company from the Orange Grove Theater. Among the entertainers were Mesdames Will Morrisey, Eddie Horne, Eddie Lambert, Ernest Morrison, Arthur Kay, Bob Leaser and the Orange Grove Trio and Misses Mildred Miller, Hazel Maye, Carol Wines and Vivian Hart.

INDUSTRIAL MUSIC WORK RECOGNIZED

MISS SABEL ASKED TO WRITE BOOKLET BY FEDERAL BUREAU HEADS

Recognition of the work done by this city in the field of industrial music has come from the government in the form of an invitation to Antoinette Sabel, director of the Industrial Music Bureau of the Chamber of Commerce, to write a booklet on this subject which will be published by the government.

The request came to Miss Sabel from Ethelbert Stewart, director of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, and Secretary of Labor Davis. Miss Sabel has done research work relative to the application of music to industry for the last six years.

The request that Miss Sabel write the pamphlet came as recognition of the local chamber's pioneering activities along this line. The Industrial Music Bureau is the first of such bureaus to be established by any chamber in the country and has been in existence for more than three years. The booklet, it was stated, will be published next year.

THE TARIFF ON SUGAR

The tariff commission is known to have adopted a report recently in favor of a reduction of the import duty on sugar. The recommendation goes to the President for action under the sliding-scale provision of the law. One member of the commission is stated to have taken no part in the deliberations on account of the holding of shares in a sugar company by some member of his family. Three members of the commission interpret the data on production costs of sugar here and in Cuba in favor of a lower tariff; two members of the commission do not so interpret them. The tariff commission was supposedly set up as a nonpartisan body; possibly it has become a bipartisan body.

Last year we produced some 216,000 tons of cane sugar and some 180,000 tons of beet sugar. From our island possessions we drew some 110,000 tons of cane sugar. From Cuba we imported some 2,440,000 tons of cane sugar. The contest is essentially between Cuban cane sugar and beet sugar produced in the United States.

Three members of the commission, supported by the interests associated with Cuban sugar, regard the tariff as higher than the difference between production costs of Cuban cane sugar and domestic beet sugar. Two members of the commission, supported by the American beet sugar producers, hold that the difference in production costs is fully as high as the duty under the present tariff.

Raising sugar beets is an important item in the mixed agriculture of numerous States as far apart as Michigan and California. No heavy action should be undertaken tending to repress diversification in our agriculture.

Sugar is a relatively cheap food. Our consumption of sugar is heavy; we use nearly half as much sugar as wheat four per person per year. We ought to make as much of it as we can on a reasonable price level. Sugar prices have declined during recent months; it is not easy to see

THE WORLD'S WINDOW

Finding a Dog for the Stick

Intestiva, official organ of the "Friedium of the Union of Soviet Republics" (official name of the government of Russia), comes with the flamboyant charge that the United States is responsible for civil war in China. It's the result of the American immigration policy, which has brought about an awakening in all Asia and which will give Japan her desired chance to extend her territory on the Asiatic mainland, says Intestiva, adding with the usual bitterness that Secretary Hughes is responsible for it all. Now, as a matter of fact, it was Secretary Hughes who opposed the drastic exclusion of Japanese in the new immigration law, but with Intestiva this is a matter resembling the case of wanting to beat a dog and picking up a handy stick to do it. As for the awakening in Asia, we have not been told that this is the aim of Bolshevik propaganda in Far Eastern countries? Perhaps it's not the right kind of awakening, in Moscow's eyes.

From the Fat into the Fire

Ramsay MacDonald, Premier of England, is in hot water with his "comrades" in the Labor party. They want to know if he actually received shares in a Scottish biscuit factory and why he did not turn the money over to the party treasurer. Mr. MacDonald was silent on the question when Tory and Liberal newspapers ventured a similar query, but when his own partisans showed the same curiosity he thought it time to reply. His reply is that he accepted the biscuit shares in order to defray the running expenses of an automobile. This, however, has brought a new question. "Who gave you the automobile?" To which Mr. MacDonald replies that it is a personal gift from Sir James Grant, the biscuit manufacturer. Sir James is a member of the Labor party and has never given any previous evidence of sympathy with the Socialists, but one thing Sir James did get was a baronetcy in the last honor list. Of course, it was the King who created him a baron, but then the Prime Minister made the recommendation. One service is worth another among friends.

From the "Pravda"

While Ramsay MacDonald is facing a hostile country in the matter of a government loan to Soviet Russia and tells his opponents that Russia intends to undertake responsibility for the money loaned in England, by the November election, the Central Committee of the Moscow soviet gives the following interesting interpretation of the treaty between England and his country: "The treaty mentions that we need not pay the claims of English creditors for rubles. This means we can pay 50 kopecks per ruble, 25 kopecks if we want to, or even a louse." That's little better than repudiation, it would seem.

RIPLING RHYMES

UNIVERSAL WOE

There is no place on all the globe entirely free from care, where no one walls and decares our day, and then we sigh for distant scenes for islands far away. And if we reached those isles remote in 't'other hemisphere we'd find that man can lose his goat as quickly there as here. There is one kind of grief at home, another far away; there is one sort of woe in Rome, another in Cathay. So when we leave our native State to dodge one brand of woe we find another just as great wherever we may go. When I lived in a frigid clime I raised a loud lament; my whiskers, full of frost and rime would break when they were bent. I longed to live where bitter storm would never chant its tune, where even winter would be warm, December seem like June. I longed my bungalow to build where blizzards never beat, where human whiskers are not filled with weeks with clammy sweat. At last my yearning dreams came true, I took the westward track, and by the ocean, calm and blue, I built my humble shack. And here no bitter arctic gale disturbs the smiling seas, and flowers and sunshine still prevail when other regions freeze. And still I fill the air with sighs as to and fro I trot; there are no frosts to kill the flies, which wearily I swat.

AN IMPOSSIBLE DOCTRINE

Only Japan knows what diplomatic subtleties lie behind her attempt to draw the League of Nations into the immigration controversy.

It is impossible to imagine that Japan has any faith in her own contention; or seriously believes that the nations of the earth will, on the final showdown, consent to any position whereby they cannot have final decision as to the make-up of their own populations.

The Japanese proposal is, in effect, that the peace protocol be worded so as to make it possible for a nation to declare war over the internal policy of another without being defined as an aggressor state subject to the sanctions of the protocol.

In this subtle move Japan seems to have had the moral support of the Italian diplomats, whose interest in the premises is plain. Italy being one of the nations most seriously affected by the new immigration laws of the United States.

Whether the purpose of Japan is to create an embarrassing situation or whether her intention is more far-reaching, the contention advanced is absurd.

Not even Japan herself would consent to any such doctrine. No nation could. The right of a nation to regulate its own immigration is fundamental and inherent. It is the most necessary and vital right of all the laws of nations. It is the right of survival and the right of existence.

In a direct way Japan's proposal can never result in anything, notwithstanding its temporary success at Geneva. Great Britain will never consent to any such doctrine, not to mention the self-interests of the United States. In fact, the most pronounced tendency observable since the World War is the determination of nations to regulate the ebb and flow of population to and from foreign countries.

Without doubt Japan hopes to create a diplomatic issue rather than to accomplish any real breakdown of the barriers that the United States, Australia, Canada and other sovereign states have erected against Asiatic immigration.

THE VANGUARD OF DEVELOPMENT

Pasadena will witness today the greatest gathering of real-estate men ever held on the Pacific Coast. At the Maryland Hotel the California Real Estate Association opens its twentieth annual convention to take stock of what has been accomplished during the past twelve months and from these experiences to formulate plans for the future.

In the twenty years of its existence this body of industrious and far-sighted citizens has, from a small group of less than 100, increased its membership to more than 3000, while the registrations this year will exceed 1500. University professors, railroad men, leading agriculturists, power engineers, a Federal judge and the Governor of the State himself will attend this convention because they recognize the important part the real-estate man has played in the development of the home and industries and farms and settlements of California.

No one can believe that the growth of the Southwest would have reached its present proportions without the services of these first aids to empire building. In the outskirts of a city old estates must be subdivided and made available for the home-seeker. A large share of the heavy work involved falls on the shoulders of the real-estate agent.

The advantages and prospects of various agricultural districts must be accurately ascertained and the knowledge tabulated and spread where those in search of such property can be most readily reached. A major portion of this pioneering falls to the real-estate agent.

New industries are always seeking suitable environment, especially in and around Los Angeles, so that the selection of the right spots for locating them is essential to the symmetrical growth of the city. Somebody must keep in close touch with the problem and be quick to approach the advance agents of big manufacturers. The greater part of this fitting square pegs in square holes devolves on the realty brokers.

But for the good of the profession, for the good of the community, for the honor of California, before knowledge, before skill, before salesmanship must come strict probity and clean, upright dealing in the handling of these vital transactions. The profit is large. The temptation to stretch the truth, to exaggerate the possibilities, to conceal some of the facts, is strong.

Undesirable salesmen, unscrupulous agents, the clever and more subtle kind of crook, are naturally attracted to a business that, without organization, opens a large field to the exploiters of human credulity.

It is against these and their shady practices that the California Real Estate Association has sternly set its face. It was organized and has worked consistently to weed out from the real-estate field in California every dealer who misrepresents conditions and attempts to grow rich by shady and dishonest means. Its chief determination has been to keep its membership confined to those of proved dependability, so that the stranger applying to any of its members may be as sure of square treatment as a buyer of dry goods in any of our large department stores.

The California Real Estate Association, at its twentieth convention, has attracted leading men from so many different fields of endeavor because it has succeeded in keeping the standard of its members as high as that of any of the other honorable professions.

LOS ANGELES COUNTY GOES

A Registration for the general election November 4 closed last Saturday with such a last-minute race as to indicate that when the total is compiled at Sacramento by Secretary of State Jordan it will be found to approximate, if not to exceed, 1,800,000.

In Los Angeles county, according to Registrar of Voters Kerr, the total registration will exceed 610,000, as against a total of 584,000 four years ago. The Republican registration alone this year will approximate 374,000 in the city and county.

Thus it appears that Los Angeles county possesses more than one-third of the total registration of the State. Figures from other southern counties indicate that Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Riverside, San Bernardino, Orange, Imperial and San Diego have approximately one-half of the total State registration.

San Francisco, with the largest registration in Central and Northern California, has approximately 13 per cent of the State total. Registration figures show that geographically the vote in California is divided almost evenly between the nine counties of Southern California and the forty-nine counties of Northern California.

For the purposes of the Presidential contest in this State application of these figures plainly shows that, regardless of the results in other localities, the electors in Los Angeles city and county can, and possibly will, determine the victory.

This responsibility is not confined to the State of California, but becomes of national importance in view of the plan of La Follette, the Socialists and other radicals to win a sufficient number of States to prevent a choice by the Electoral College. Managers of the Republican Presidential campaign in California are confident that Coolidge and Davies will win by a large margin, but such expectation is based in considerable degree upon a belief that the President and his running mate will receive a tremendous majority in Los Angeles.

This city and county gave President Coolidge a majority in excess of 61,000 in the May Presidential primary. The Republican campaign in charge of the Coolidge-Dawes campaign in the county hope to be able to double or treble this figure in the general election.

WHY HARBOR A TRAITOR?

Senator Brookhart has a right to be as independent as any maned lion of the jungle, but he cannot claim the support and backing of conscientious Republicans while fighting or repudiating the principles and the standard-bearers of their ancient and honorable party. He offers lip allegiance to the organization he seeks to destroy. He is but an effigy of La Follette, trained to the same gestures and the same nondescript opinions.

La Follette has gained his fame and fortune through the connection he has maintained with the Republican party. Without that professed affiliation he could have made no progress in Wisconsin politics. Now in his old age he has definitely disavowed his ancient obligation. He is as one taken while attempting to scuttle the ship on which he was long a traveler. Hereafter he may not advertise any Republican connection. He can have a La Follette party if he wishes, but it will not be an affiliation of the Republican faith.

So let it be with Brookhart. No party can afford to be weighed with despoilers. The story of America is based upon party government. The average man is faithful to his wife, his party, his country and his church. In these commitments America has risen to her envied place in the world. Sometimes a great issue will evolve a personality more potent than his party, but these chapters are rare and not always for the general good.

Certainly there is no call for feverish leadership at this time. The ship of state is on ever level and the seas are reasonably calm. As a people we are enjoying a prosperity that affords amusement to the rest of the world. There is little of genuine suffering in the land—that is, a suffering that could be ameliorated or healed by the politicians. The country finds no reason for the La Follettes and Brookharts, who preach the gospel of discontent. There are no slaves in America, despite the efforts of the Badger Boasangers to manufacture gyvas for the workers' wrists.

CAPITALIZING SUPERSTITION

There are hundreds of fortune-tellers and mediums in Los Angeles. In some marvellous manner these men and women eke out an existence and, in a few instances, make a luxurious living. That the ignorance and superstition of men and women in this, the twentieth century, will permit of such means to make a livelihood is past all understanding.

Charges ranging from 50 cents to $100 or even more prevail, and business is good, it is reported.

One of these seers makes appointments six weeks in advance. This is very hard to believe, but investigation proved it to be true.

Women are more susceptible to the blandishments of these "ladies and gentlemen" than men; but are by no means alone. Hard-headed business men, professional men and bankers occasionally fall for this bunk. After the day's work is over and the shekels have been gathered in, how these quacks must laugh among themselves! Laugh, clown, laugh!

TAKING THE COUNT

Bumps will go pretty hard with the young man of next year who tries to steer his plane with one hand while cuddling his sweets.

FILING STATIONS

Shipping cars for balloons in freight cars sounds like monkey business, but Uncle Sam is doing that very thing and it is considered all in the day's work.

DRY COUNTRY

Less than 2 per cent of the arid land in the United States is under irrigation. If we had a few more dam sites we would have a darned sight more greenery.

A RISING QUESTION

According to latest advices from New York, the fashionable skirts are eleven inches from the ground and still going up. Men with good eyesight would like to see a contest between New York and Hollywood in this matter.

AMONG THE PRUNES

An alleged shortage of more than 100-600,000 pounds in the country's prune crop might give the American home something to worry about, but the situation may not be as black as painted. California not only supplies most of the prunes, but is in position to offer numbers of substitutes. Possibly we are not so dependent upon the buxom prune as we think we are. There are other fillings besides prunes.

THE LAST HORSE

At one of the big county fairs in New York State this year over 1000 autos passed through the gates every day, but during the whole week there was but one horse-drawn vehicle. Yet most folk remember when the horse and buggy was the mainstay of the county fair. Every road leading to the grounds was white with the dust raised by 1000 horses and every tree for a mile around had a Dobbin tethered to it. On the boulevards in these days a horse is a rarity and a side-bar buggy is absolutely unknown. They are still using horses in horse races, but that is about all that counts.

CRIMINAL PROGRESS

There is no halting of crime. Violence goes unchecked. For their numbers the Los Angeles police are doing well, but we still have more than our share of murders and burglaries. There are robbers yet to be taken. According to some figures from Sacramento, bank robberies in California increased 600 per cent last year. It is a dull week when there is no bank hold-up. In this department of felonious effort we seem to be running wild. Wicked and dangerous men appear to have formed the idea that banks have money and they go after it. Every now and then some rash one gets killed full of lead, but it would take several weeks of applied sharpshooting to get rid of them all. The time may yet come when every man who tries to draw money without having an account will automatically receive a puncture of his inner tube.

THE OUT-DOOR SCHOOL

Three of the Chiles schools are experimenting with open-air classrooms. These rooms are largely for children in the stockyard district who are considered undernourished or physically deficient. They are to be open-window rooms the year 'round. In the winter the children are provided with heavy sweaters, woolen caps and mittens. They have from six to eight hours of schooling a day in this environment and warm and substantial lunches are provided. The physical progress made by some of the youngsters is said to be remarkable. Children that were well along on the white highway of tuberculosis have been recalled and started on the path of health and strength. The school of the open door and window seems to have its definite mission. Here in California there is little warrant for grief over inadequate school room. If we had to we could park 10,000 youngsters in the shade of our palms and give them a course in spelling and arithmetic.

TEARING UP TRACKS

Some years back America was wonderful in the extension of her steam-railway mileage. Optimists promised that the laying of steel rails would go on until virtually all the worth-while towns and hamlets of the nation would be connected with one another by bonds of enduring metal. But motor trucking and the use of the automobile have lessened the importance of the locomotive. In the last eight years there has not only been a slump in railway construction, but, according to the compilations of the Interstate Commerce Commission, the mileage has actually lessened. Ordinarily, this would be considered an industrial tragedy, but it now invites comment as a bit of efficiency. Rails are being taken up where they are unprofitable or unessential and steam is going where the business is. The great railway systems are themselves turning to the extensive use of the motor truck for short hauls in freight and motor buses are being utilized as auxiliaries or feeders for passenger traffic. But there is nothing to worry about. The business of the Santa Fe and Southern Pacific will go merrily on and there will be extensions when the extensions are conducive to more and better business.

Relieved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

These Three Letters Prove It

Lowell, Mass.—"I am sending you a few lines to let you know what good your medicine has done for me. I want you to let every one know that it has helped me in nervous troubles. I have four children and you know there is a lot to do where children are. They would come from school and they would start telling me about their little troubles but I could not stand it. I had to send them away. I could not even walk on the street alone I was so nervous. I found one of your books and read it and then I saw in the paper about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got it and had taken one bottle when I saw a change in myself. I was surprised. The children can talk all they want to now and it does not bother me. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. JOSEPH LEMMER, 34 South Street, Lowell, Mass.

Felt Like A New Woman

Springfield, Missouri.—"For four or five months I was run-down, nervous, my back ached and I did not feel like doing a thing. Sometimes my legs ached and felt like they would break and I had a hurting in my sides. I had been reading in the newspapers the letters of other women who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and the advertising of it appealed to me so I bought some and saw results in almost no time. I had hardly been able to do my own work and after taking the Vegetable Compound I felt like a new woman. I recommend it to my friends who have troubles like I did, and hope they will find the same results."—Mrs. M. CAMPBELL, 607 W. Chase Street, Springfield, Miss.

40 Years Old, Feels Like 20

Hagerstown, Md.—"I was very bad off with backache, a bearing-down feeling in my body and a pain in my left side. I could not be on my feet at times and once I was so bad I walked bent over to one side for three weeks. My sister read of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got me a bottle. I got so much relief that I took more until I was well. I am 40 years old and feel like 20. I am sure this medicine will help all women."—Mrs. MARY E. SANDY, 438 W. Franklin Street, Hagerstown, Md.

Over 100,000 women have so far replied to our question, "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?" 98 per cent of these replies are "Yes."

That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take this medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it. All druggists are having increased sales of this medicine.

STONE MURDER QUIZ REVIVED

Mantell Shooting Stirs Up Police Investigation

Sister of Slain Butterfly to See Wounded Man

Will Ascertain if He Was Friend of Victim

A reopening of the Vera Stone murder quiz is planned by the police for today when they will ask Miss Pearl Dunbar, sister of the murdered "butterfly," to visit the General Hospital and tell whether she ever saw Lee Mantell, now lying close to death there, in her sister's apartments. Mantell was shot by Mrs. Louise M. Reeson on September 30, last, after he had choked and attempted to attack her, according to her statement.

Vera Stone was found dead in her West Eleventh-street apartment on the night of April 1, last. Marks of strangulation were found on her throat. The mystery of her death has never been solved.

SEEN AS POSSIBLE FRIEND

Acting Captain of Detectives Longuevan declared yesterday he thinks there is a possibility Mantell may have been a friend of Vera Stone and may be able to furnish information of value to the police in searching for her murderer.

For the first time since September 30, last, Mantell and Mrs. Reeson faced each other yesterday. The meeting took place at the General Hospital and Mantell gave the lie to much of Mrs. Reeson's statement.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Harold Davis, Detective Lieutenants Jarvis and Hamilton and O. S. Reeson, husband of the accused woman, were present. Reeson declared to have been separated from his wife at the time of the shooting, but came to her defense following her arrest and confession Monday.

Police questioned both Mantell and Mrs. Reeson as to why they neglected to report the shooting at once. Mantell said he refused to tell who had shot him because he didn't want his wife to know he had been "killing out."

Mrs. Reeson said she made an agreement with Mantell to "keep quiet as long as he did" as he was staggering from her apartment dangerously wounded. She said she did not report the shooting because of fear of newspaper publicity. She did tell a neighbor who had heard screams and shots on the following morning, but this was corroborated by Detective Lieutenants Jarvis and Hamilton, who have questioned this woman.

The statements of the two differ as to what started the quarrel preceding the shooting. Mrs. Reeson said Mantell attempted to attack her after she came home from a night of dancing with him and that she only shot after he had choked her almost into insensibility.

Mantell denied this yesterday. He declared Mrs. Reeson drank with him, that she invited him into her apartment and demanded $50. When he refused to give her this, she became "hard-boiled" and got a gun. The shots were fired as he attempted to wriggle away from her, he declared.

He also said, Mrs. Reeson admitted this, that she told him she had an "old aunt" in another room and he couldn't stay long. "Why should I want to stay a row with her?" he asked. "I thought her aunt was in the next room?" Mantell asked yesterday.

MEET AT DANCE HALL

From their meeting at a dance hall to their arrival at Mrs. Reeson's apartment, 3311 West Tenth-street, the stories of Mantell and Mrs. Reeson agree. He bought a bottle of whiskey and part of this had been drunk by that time.

Mantell said Mrs. Reeson told him she could dance the snake dance better than the entertainer at the cabaret, and that she studied fancy dancing.

"She told me she was going to the dancing school the next morning and that she needed $50," he said. "She was sitting on my lap and smoking a cigarette. When I refused to give her so much money she went into the bedroom, which was dark, and came back with a gun. I told her not to do anything she would be sorry for, but she came at me. I attempted to grab the gun and the shots were fired."

Mrs. Reeson's story is that she allowed Mantell to enter her apartment just to take one drink, that after asking her to go out with him again and getting her phone number, he started to leave. It was then, she said, he grasped her arm and forced her to her knees.

According to her story, a period of wrestling followed, in which she was choked into semiconsciousness and left lying on the floor. After a few moments she said Mantell put her on the bed and tore at her clothes.

WOMAN'S STORY OF SHOTS

When Mantell stepped back, she said she got her gun from under her pillow—she declared they had fought their way into the bedroom and told him to get out. He did not do so and she fired one shot to scare him, she said. Then as he grasped her throat again, she said she fired three more shots.

A few minutes later Mantell left her, telling her he had been shot, she declared. She said one shot was fired from the gun as she was putting it away.

During the whole attack until she lost consciousness, Mrs. Reeson said she was screaming for help. Her screams and the shots were heard by the neighbor next door.

Mantell admitted he has a police record. He says he was convicted here in 1920 of driving while intoxicated and served six months. He was arrested last June in Long Beach, he declared, for violation of the Wright Act, but the case was dismissed.

According to his statement, he has worked for several oil companies here and in the northern part of the State was an employee of a San Francisco newspaper. He was planning to go north in a week when he met Mrs. Reeson, he said.

Detective Lieutenants Jarvis and Hamilton declared last night they will hold Mrs. Reeson at least until they have conferred with Dist. Atty. Keyes. The plan is to do this at 2 p. m. today.

Kenneth Harlan to Wed Marie Prevost Saturday if it is Completed

The marriage of Marie Prevost and Kenneth Harlan, screen stars, probably will take place Saturday. It was learned last night.

Mr. Harlan is working in a picture which is expected to be completed Friday. If it is completed the marriage will take place Saturday. If the picture goes over another day, the marriage may be delayed until Monday or Tuesday.

Mr. Harlan was reticent about discussing the report. He authorized announcement of the engagement on June 28. It was understood then that the marriage would take place in October.

Inasmuch as Mr. Harlan is to start in another picture about the 25th inst., the honeymoon cannot be an extended one. Miss Prevost has been on vacation since about September 14. She once was married secretly to C. C. Gerk, popularly known as Sonny, but their marriage was not generally known until it was disclosed when he received a divorce. Mr. Harlan once was husband of Flo Hart.

Engineers Hear Gen. Beach Tell of River Work

The development of traffic on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers made possible by engineering feats in the construction of river improvements was discussed by Gen. Lansing H. Beach, retired chief of engineers of the United States Army, at a meeting of the Los Angeles Post of the Society of American Engineers last night.

The meeting, which took the form of an informal dinner at the Windsor Tea Rooms, was well attended. Gen. Beach, who is president of the society, told of the construction of levees and locks on the Mississippi and Ohio rivers by a corps of engineers from the Army and the Mississippi River Commission.

This work, the general said, has made a great increase of traffic on the rivers possible.

Another speaker was William C. Asher, president of the Club of Southern California, who discussed the political and military situation in China. Mr. Asher expressed the opinion that Dr. Sun Yat Sen is the central figure in the war and that the outcome will depend largely upon what move he makes.

NEW PASTOR HERE TO ASSUME DUTIES

Rev. George A. Warner, for the last six years pastor of the First Methodist Church at Bakersfield, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday, accompanied by his family, to begin his duties as pastor of the Westlake Methodist Church, to which he was appointed by Bishop Charles W. Burns at the California conference at Santa Barbara last week.

A special reception in honor of the new pastor will be given during the rally day exercises at the Westlake church next Sunday morning and in the evening Mr. Warner will preach his first sermon to his new congregation.

Dr. W. T. Wright, predecessor of Mr. Warner, was appointed by Bishop Burns to the pastorate of the Fullerton Methodist Church.

BUSTER TO COLOR HIS NEXT COMEDY

Now that he has finished "The Navigator," now showing at Loew's State Theater, Buster Keaton is going to make his next comedy in color.

And so that the color photographs of his next picture, "Buster," will wear a rust-colored button shoes, a green necktie, a pink and blue shirt with yellow studs, red underwear, which will show at the neck and cuffs, green socks to match his tie, purple pants, a fancy waistcoat and a light-refracting coat. In some scenes Buster will appear with a bluish-black eye and a jaundiced-yellow jaw.

Underwater scenes showing Buster with a glided diving suit, fighting purple octopuses, scraping off blackish-blue barnacles and evading greenish-brown swordfish were taken during the filming of "The Navigator." The tests proved very satisfactory, especially one scene which revealed Buster picking the tooth of an enraged bluish-white shark with a dirt-colored pick and a rusty rust-bued file.

NIGHT SCENES IN "SEA HAWK" NOVEL

Frank Lloyd produced a number of unusual scenes for his motion-picture version of "The Sea Hawk," now playing at the Alhambra Theater. Among them is a night sea battle between the large English frigate, the Silver Heron, commanded by Sir John Killigrew, and the Moorish galley, commanded by Amd. Pasha of Algiers, and bearing as passengers Sir Oliver and Rosamund, his sweetheart.

Sabatini's description of the attack and the chase which followed is mounted to a brief paragraph, but to give action to the event in the making of the picture required many hours, time and assistance of more than two glaucous ships, a smooth sea, the wind from the west and a full moon, not to mention an innovation in motion-picture photography. Mr. Lloyd's version of the moonlight battle in "The Sea Hawk" was real and so stands out as one of the most noteworthy achievements in the visualization of the drama.

ARTIST FINDS VARIED SCENIC STUDIES HERE

"Southern California has a greater variety of beautiful scenic studies than any other section of the world."

This according to Frank Gardin, veteran artist and outdoor scenic painter, whose exhibit of fourteen original oils, most of which are Southern California studies, may be seen in the art room of the Metropolitan Theater. Gardin came to California in 1910 to do a contract for the Santa Fe involving the painting of the Grand Canyon and other points of scenic interest. He was one of the original members of the original Ramblers' Club, which included Albert Clinton Connor, Charles Connor and M. T. Nordyke.

Among the oils on display are the following subjects: "Journey's End," "Tombstone Canyon," "Springtime in California," "Home Sweet Home," "Birches in Michigan," "Woods in Autumn," "Peaceful Valley," "Bend in River," "The Old Swimming Hole," "The Old Apple Tree," "Sunset on the Pacific," "In Harvest Time," "Hues of Winter," and "Falling Leaves."

Temporary deafness caused by the explosion of an airplane four miles away from the artist, may be averted by the placing of powder puffs over the ears, says an expert.

NEW STEEL PLANT TO BE BUILT HERE

Plans Being Drawn for First Unit of American Manganese Company

A large steel plant is to be erected by the American Manganese Steel Company on a three-acre site at Slauson avenue and Downey Road. It was announced yesterday by W. T. Daum and staff, through whom the location was chosen.

Architectural plans for the building are being prepared by D. H. Young. It was stated, and construction will begin as soon as they are drafted.

The company specializes in high-grade alloyed steel and maintains foundries at Chicago, Newcastle, Del., Oklahoma and Los Angeles. The growing demand for alloyed steel in Southern California prompted the company to decide upon the establishment of the plant here. It will be designed to permit of constant expansion.

Shoe Company Adds Another Store to Chain

The eighth store of the Young Shoe Company has just been opened in the new Commercial Exchange Building, 432 West Eighth street, eight years after the first store was established in West Sixth street. The new store is finished in selected waxed redwood, with display windows trimmed in redwood and Zentheim stone. The fittings, architects say, are the equal of those in any retail establishment in the city. The store contains a complete stock of new fall footwear.

A. R. Young, president of the company, declared yesterday his ambition had been to have a store on every important street in the business district and that it was now being realized. There are Young stores, he pointed out, on Fourth and Fifth, two on Sixth, one on Eighth, two on Broadway and one on Hollywood Boulevard.

"The Young shoe store is one of the largest retail shoe establishments in the United States."

High Record in Convictions by Narcotic Squad

An inventory of narcotic equipment seized by Acting Captain Littlejohn and Detectives Phillips and Edmonds of the police narcotic squad in the last few months yesterday revealed the unusual activity of the squad. The collection includes hundreds of hypodermic syringes and various substitutes for them, spoons in which solutions of dope are cooked, and other paraphernalia used by addicts.

An average of better than 99 per cent of convictions in narcotic law arrests has been maintained during the last four months, Acting Captain Littlejohn announced. There has been an average of 150 arrests and 129 convictions each month, the report shows.

Sentence is Cut to Nine Months in Girl's Death

Because Hal J. Conlin served eight months in jail prior to his conviction of a manslaughter charge in connection with the death in an automobile accident of Mata Stoddard, Superior Judge Hahn yesterday suspended sentence of from one to ten years imposed on Conlin with the provision that he serve nine months more in the County Jail.

Miss Stoddard was killed on February 2, last, when Conlin's automobile, in which she was riding, struck a telephone post. Conlin's defense at his trial was that Miss Stoddard was driving the machine at the time of the accident.

MORE POLICE SOUGHT

West Adams-street Business Men Ask Better Protection

The West Adams Business Men's Association yesterday asked the police commission for better police protection for the district bounded by Montclair and Jefferson streets, the western city boundary adjoining Culver City, and West Washington street.

L. C. Cox is president of the association, and he pointed out the growth of the district and the large number of homes and business establishments there now requiring police protection.

The proposed district was investigated and made recommendations.

TUNNEL WORK HEARING SET

The Public Works Committee of the City Council on next Tuesday afternoon will hold a hearing on the petition presented by Second-street property owners and business men asking a seven-foot sidewalk be built on the north side of the Second-street tunnel. There is now a sidewalk on the south side. The proposed sidewalk will cost about $3000.

RADIO WEATHER

The possibility of predicting weather conditions from radio observation of the atmosphere grows more with the study of static effects. With the aid of direction-finding apparatus in England the search for the study of static effects has been followed vast distances. Similar observations are now being made in this country and France.

VETERANS GIVEN CONCERT

Don Clark and his La Moula Ballroom orchestra gave an impromptu concert yesterday afternoon at the hospital at the Soldiers' Home for the wounded veterans recuperating there. The orchestra played for about an hour, allowing the veterans to pick their favorite melodies.

Widow's Action Clears Him of Commissioners' Charges

Urges Complete Audit of Harbor Records

Department of J. W. Ludlow as chief harbor engineer to be until the selection of a new chief was announced by the department was announced at the Golden Gate association session of the Harbor Board. This action restores Ludlow to his old position from which he was summarily dismissed ten weeks ago and is a vindication of charges made by Commissioner Kibbe.

It clears up a somewhat confused situation, which was created by the appointment of Mr. Ludlow as assistant harbor engineer at his old salary. The post was held by J. C. Shaw, who was appointed to this position after Ludlow had been ousted. It was known that Shaw had made arrangements for the position of engineer.

Allen recommended that the board make a complete audit and an analytical survey of the harbor department. The value of the properties and improvement of the harbor department is $11,000,000.

Four Counts

Unable to Give Bond; is Remanded to Jail

Leo R. Rabe, indicted by the grand jury on four counts of obtaining money and property by false pretenses in connection with the promotion of the Long Beach Dock and Terminal were completed to float a $1,000,000 bond issue, and that George W. Goethals, Senator from Long Beach, was a director of the corporation. Rabe, who is also a director of the corporation, then asserted representations, according to the District Attorney's office, were false.

The indictment charged Rabe with obtaining several thousands dollars worth of property and money from Henrietta McCaw and Owen of Long Beach.

Rabe appeared in court yesterday, his attorney, Claire Following the hearing

According to the indictment, before the company had secured a large tract of land adjacent to Long Beach, that plans were completed to float a bond issue and that the company was in the process of securing subscriptions for the terminal stock.

The indictment was returned by the grand jury in the District Attorney's office, after a hearing by Judge Avery.

Girl of Six and Mother End Hike Across Country

Six-year-old Betty Rose, said to be the youngest transcontinental hiker, and her mother, Mrs. Blanche Rose, walked into Los Angeles yesterday, completing a 5,000-mile, round-about journey from Pittsburgh, Pa., which started July 13, last.

They were aided, Mrs. Rose said, by short lifts given by motorists. The route extended westward to Chicago, Yellowstone Park and Seattle, thence south through San Francisco to this city.

In regard to the hardships of the hike, little Betty unconsciously paraphrased the famous remark of the Governor of North Carolina: "It was a long way between lollypops and ice cream cones." Her mother explained that she held out the lure of a lollypop when the little hiker lagged. "It wasn't often that she did," Mrs. Rose said. Betty enjoyed every minute of the trip.

"Most everyone we saw," said Mrs. Rose, "envisied us when we told them we were going to Los Angeles. Those who don't want to come here are only a small part of the persons we saw along the road."

The trip was undertaken "just for fun," Mrs. Rose declared, although she may write articles about her experiences en route.

Trade Topics on Program of National Body

Four subjects of outstanding importance are to be discussed by experts at the midyear meeting of the western division of the National Chamber of Commerce, which opens at the Alexandria Hotel, December 3, next, for two days.

The principal subjects to be discussed are "Waste and Extravagance in Business and Government," "The Business of Farming," "Reforestation" and "Shipping Problems of the Pacific Coast."

Each subject will receive a half-day's discussion during the meeting. Careful surveys are being made of each of these fields and speakers pre-eminently fitted to discuss them will offer the leading addresses on each subject.

BROTHERHOODS WILL UNITE

Church Organization Will be Effected at Meeting of County Bodies This Month

Organization of the United Church Brotherhood of Los Angeles county will be effected at a mass meeting to be conducted here this month, the date and place of which will be announced following a meeting of church brotherhood officials at 510 Bradbury Building next Monday evening.

This announcement was made last night by Dr. Frank McCann of Monrovia, who was chairman of a meeting conducted yesterday at the Bradbury Building and attended by representatives of church brotherhoods of various cities and communities of the county.

"Thousands of men of various churches have felt, for a long time, a need for the consolidation of church brotherhoods in order to inaugurate a program for religious, social and civic welfare," said Dr. McCann. "The meeting yesterday was the culmination of a series of gatherings at which the movement has been discussed. It is expected that more than 300 members of church brotherhoods of Los Angeles county will be present at the coming mass meeting."

Brotherhood officials present at the meeting yesterday included: Mrs. Charles F. Nelson and H. C. Robertson and Messrs. H. O. Cady, H. S. Moore, Charles T. Butta, Charles S. McKelvey, W. H. Kenworthy, C. D. Ray, L. S. Phelps, Walter L. Koethen and Newell J. Elliott of Los Angeles; Harry Caldwell and A. R. Taylor of Wilmington; J. T. Boyle, A. F. Hammon and J. M. Foreyth of Long Beach; B. H. Weatherall and H. J. Watson of Eagle Rock; C. M. Fluke, Claremont; D. A. Johnson, Tujunga; Frank C. Weller, Glendale; R. E. Lauback, Downey; Charles E. Tobbetts, Whittier; A. C. Gerard, Pico; George F. Hedler, Torrance; A. J. Neimeyer, Pasadena; M. B. Round, Azusa, and Dr. McCann of Monrovia.

HELD AS BASEMENT BANDIT

Sam Fish, Suspect Identified as One Who Lured Victim to Apartment for Holdup

Sam Fish, bandit suspect known to police under the alias of "Black Able," was identified yesterday as the man who lured Jake Sperling to the basement of an apartment-house at 1001 Hyperion avenue, Hollywood, recently and there robbed him of a diamond stickpin valued at $2200.

The identification was made by Sperling at police headquarters, detectives said, and as a result, police yesterday were seeking to link the suspect with a number of other holdups and robberies here in recent months.

Sperling, it was stated, was held up and robbed on the morning of September 19 last. The preceding evening, he said, a man posing as a real estate agent called him on the telephone and informed him that he desired to purchase the new apartment-house for a client. Sperling met the man whom he identified yesterday, according to police, and the two went into the basement of the apartment-house to inspect the foundation. There, it is charged, Fish held up Sperling and took the valuable stickpin, locking his victim in the basement.

The arrest of Fish resulted from the activities of a police informer.

New Driver Dies on Journey He Feared to Take

Thrown from his machine when it skidded on the slippery road on the Ridge Route north of Saugus yesterday, J. M. Watson of Stockton was killed almost instantly, according to reports to the Sheriff's office.

That Watson was an inexperienced driver and that he abandoned the trip home the previous night on account of weather conditions and fear that he would be unable to handle the new car, was reported to Deputy Sheriff Bright, head of the homicide squad, by P. H. Dunham of San Fernando. Dunham told Bright that he was picked up by Watson Monday night and given a ride as far as San Fernando, at which point Watson turned around because he was afraid to continue the journey in the rain.

Watson's body was found by a passing motorist and was taken to an undertaking establishment in San Fernando. Papers found on the victim requested that Watson Brothers, 802 Old Colony street, Des Moines, Iowa, be notified in case of accident.

Runaway Girls Finish Hike in Juvenile Hall

Emma Lane, 14 years of age, and Beulah Lane, 20, came to the end of the trail yesterday. Two weeks ago, according to police, they left their home in Kansas City, Mo., to hike to Los Angeles. Yesterday they reached the end of their journey and landed in Juvenile Hall.

The girls were found at 809 Francisco street by Detective Lieutenant Davis of the vice squad, who learned that they had disappeared from their home without the sanction of their mother, Mrs. Emma Lane.

'International Burglars' Make Not Guilty Plea

Robert C. Considine and Walter C. Ruoff, asserted international burglars, yesterday pleaded not guilty in Judge Avery's court to nineteen counts of burglary. Their trial was set for the 21st inst.

The pair, according to the District Attorney, had been approximately a score of houses of well-to-do people in Pasadena and South Pasadena. The asserted thefts occurred over a period beginning last January and ending last July.

STREET PLAN BACKED

Jefferson University Association for Major Proposition

The major street plan, which will be the Proposition A on the ballot at the November 4 general election, was endorsed yesterday in a communication received by the City Council from the Jefferson University Improvement Association.

The organization also endorsed Proposition B, a $5,000,000 bond issue to be used by the city toward the first street opening and widening projects recommended in the plan.

AMENDMENTS TO BE TOPIC

The meeting of the Women Lawyers' Club tomorrow will be devoted to a discussion of the eighteen proposed amendments to our State Constitution which are to be voted upon at the November election. Miss Josephine Parker will preside at the meeting in the absence of Miss Nelson, the president, who will be in attendance at the California Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Bakersfield.

WOMAN IS ATTACKED BY AUTOIST

Tells Police Driver Tried to Drag Her Into Machine; Has Injuries Treated

Her hat broken, clothes torn, and arms and shoulders bruised, Mrs. Felicia Fields, 30 years of age, of 218 California street, was treated at Receiving Hospital early yesterday morning, following what she told police was an attempt by a motorist to drag her into his auto.

The asserted attack, according to the police, took place in a street near the woman's residence about 2 a.m. Mrs. Fields told the police that her attacker drove up in an auto and invited her to "join his party." When she refused, she said, he attempted to drag her forcibly into the car.

In answer to her cry, Everett P. Williams, a taxi driver, rushed up and sought to grapple with her attacker. The latter, however, loosed his hold of Mrs. Fields, leaped into his car and fled.

Chain Letters to Bring Film Folk to Polls

An organization to bring the film colony in line with the nation-wide movement for a heavy vote November 4 has been formed by B. P. Schulberg and called the Voters Vote Club.

The club will have no meetings and no dues, but members will be asked to write each to five friends, urging them to vote and to write like advice to five other friends.

NARCOTIC PEDDLER CONVICTED AT LAST

NEGRO, OFTEN ARRESTED, IS SENTENCED FINALLY TO PRISON TERM

Virgil Blislow, colored narcotic peddler, was convicted yesterday in Federal Judge McCormick's court by a jury on a charge of violation of the Harrison Narcotic Act, and sentenced to spend the next eighteen months in Leavenworth prison. Blislow was arrested on May 21, last, at 1478 Central avenue, by Federal Narcotic Agents De Spain and Bright, who charged that their operative purchased narcotics from him. According to officers, the negro has been arrested before, the charges ranging from robbery and grand larceny to narcotic violations, but until yesterday he escaped conviction.

Getting past Mr. Buffer

THE salesman had tried for months to see the manager. Repeated calls met the same answer, "Talk to Mr. Buffer."

Mr. Buffer was polite, ambitious, but without authority to buy.

But mail reaches this manager, even when salesmen cannot. So the salesman's firm began to send booklets to his desk—interesting printed pieces that told the facts about the product and showed what it would save the manager's firm in hard cash every month they used it.

Now, when the salesman calls, instead of hearing "Talk to Mr. Buffer," the answer is "Come right in!"

That's the way printing helps your salesmen. When a man has read about the service your products can give him, he is more ready to see the men you send to call.

The cheapest, most powerful way to make possible buyers conscious that they need your goods is through the use of good printing.

Call in a good printer and talk over with him how to prepare printing that helps salesmen.

How to plan printing to get results is told in the Warren "More Business Series." You can get these helpful books, without any cost to you, from any paper merchant who sells Warren's Standard Printing Papers.

Are You as Well as You Should Be?

You Can't Be Happy When Every Day Brings That Nagging Backache and Finds You Tired, Weak and All Worn Out.

TO be well is to enjoy life—to share in the happy times of those around us. But to be constantly ailing is to miss life's pleasures and to envy the health and joys of more fortunate friends and neighbors.

Are you one of the countless folks to whom every day is a backache day? Do you feel older and slower than you should; get up lame and aching; suffer stabbing pains at every sudden move? And does evening find you too tired, nervous and depressed to rest or relax?

To get back in trim, then, you must first find out what is making you feel so miserable and try to correct it. All too often weak kidneys are to blame.

You may have only backache—a lameness, soreness, stiffness, or sudden, stabbing pains when lifting or stooping. Or there may be headaches, dizziness and annoying bladder irregularities. These are common symptoms of kidney weakness—usually easy to correct if treated promptly, but dangerous if neglected! Begin using Doan's Pills before some serious kidney sickness develops. Thousands have won back good health through Doan's. They should help you, too. Ask your neighbor!

"Use Doan's", Say These Los Angeles Folks:

J. W. RICHMOND, 123 E. Fifty-Seventh St., says: "Dull, throbbing pains settled over my kidneys and through the small of my back. Finally, I got to where it was hard to get up or down, for if I did, I had to ease myself for fear of another one of these sharp, stabbing pains. Morning my muscles and back were stiff, too. I knew this was due to my kidneys and I started using Doan's Pills. They rid me of the ailment."

MRS. T. W. RASMUSSEN, 1173 E. Forty-Sixth St., says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and my back became lame and weak and it ached too. The worst trouble was a sharp, quick pain which took me across my kidneys, as I could dizzy spells were frequent, too, and spots blurred my sight. My kidneys didn't act properly, so I used Doan's Pills and they completely rid me of these symptoms."

NO BUSINESS, IS UNCLE'S COMPLAINT

Pawnshops Hard Hit by New "Dollar Down" Era

Complaints Grow Smaller, Cheap Jewelry Abounds

Some Borrowers Seek Money on Queer Channels

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

DIE MOINES (Iowa), Oct. 1.—The three balls—said to symbolize faith, hope and charity in the pawnshops—droop dejectedly in the front of every pawnshop in Des Moines.

"Business is poor," pawnshop dealers unanimously declare with a painful shake of the head and a shrug of the shoulders.

"Folks haven't got anything to pawn any more," is their complaint.

"Business ain't what it used to be. They buy on the installment plan now and they don't own any thing that is worth a decent-size loan."

The customers who formerly patronized the shops whose parlors were decorated with the three golden apples no longer have valuable jewelry on which they can obtain large sums as loans, it is stated. A large amount of cheap trinkets bought on installment-plan prices are presented daily for loans.

A dealer in the city's pawnshop proprietor, Where a loan of $50 used to be made, the pawnshop dealer only offers a $5 bill now.

Even the wedding ring which occasionally appears in the showcase of the "cheap shops" has decreased in value.

"A wedding ring used to be worth about $10 when they made them in the thirties," says the dealer.

"Now we wouldn't give them $1 for a wedding ring. They're made of light stuff and the gold in them has faded so nearly as much as it used to be."

Wedding rings only make up a small part of the pawnshop business, M. Levich, proprietor of a jewelry store at 223 Walnut street, stated.

The value of a wedding ring is so much more than the financial value that it isn't worth while for most of the men to pawn them, he declared.

"But we have some regular customers who bring their wedding rings in and we take them up to the next. I don't know where they explain to their husbands."

Others have their first time. They hate to part with them, but on the second and third trip they can pass them off without a tear.

"A lot of them return the rings. Dealers will take little which cannot be placed in the safe, the usual number of break offers are made and the rings in some cases are accepted."

"One man came in a week ago from Iowa to pawn his cork shoe," stated Julius Cohen, 120 Walnut street. "I wouldn't take it because there wasn't any market for it."

"Others come in and want to pawn their crutches and their false teeth. We've had lots of them. Some have their false teeth to go toothless if we would loan them money."

Many people take up the principal item of trade at local shops. Miscellaneous goods, grips, valises and brief cases make up the accepted merchandise. The dealer has diamonds, rings and other trinkets the fourth.

Many miscellaneous articles, ranging from a pair of socks to dress suits drift into the pawnshops.

Two dress suits were left as security for $5 and $5 loans during the week.

Another pawn shop loaned $3 on a pair of rubber boots and a fanny bag. Four bedspreads brought $4.50.

With the close of the summer fishing season one customer left his fishing gear, including a spinning reel, for $1.50. Three or four portable typewriters, one-half dozen typewriters, a slide from Yonkers and a camera are among the articles at another shop.

Edison, a police man, pawned to necessity and deposited his bag containing four clubs. He took $4 in return.

GREAT MEN

Judge James A. Foley said at a dinner in New York:

"A college president declared the streets of New York are full of great men of recent times were Henry Ford, Thomas Edison and Roosevelt."

Always think that these judgments about our greatest men are silly. Each of us chooses his great men according to his own special talent. When a man is great, he is told of the college—president's choice he rubbed his hands chuckling.

"Edison, Ford and Roosevelt, hey? Well, they was great men, but de man vot invented invented was not slouch." (Wall Street Journal.)

The Ocean Boulevard following the string of islands which extend from the extremity of Florida, and which have been arranged for a long time, is now to be used for a long time, is now to be realized, for the details have been worked out and the great ride soon be begun. Contracts have been signed for about twenty-five miles of road, and the great ride is about one-sixth of the total length of the proposed line and when this is well under way the remainder of the line will be so that in the course of a year or two automobile drivers will be enabled to take a ride of 150 miles out to sea.
